Labor Bill Remains Intact

Herter Confirmed As Secretary, 93-0

Oath-Taking Set Today At White House

Senate Recognizes Need For Speed, Waives Wait Rule

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate brushed aside a no-hurry rule Tuesday and whisked through by a 93-0 vote its confirmation of Christian A. Herter as secretary of state.

This cleared the way for the suave, scholarly, 64-year-old Herter to take over with full authority from cancer-stricken John Foster Dulles.

The reason for the rush is that Herter leaves Monday for Paris to take part in a free world foreign ministers' conference in preparation for East-West talks on the touch-and-go German situation.

President Eisenhower formally nominated Herter, who has been Dulles' No. 2 man, for the top State Department spot only Monday. Under Senate rules such a nomination can't be confirmed in less than six days. The Senate waived this rule in view of Herter's imminent responsibilities.

Takes Oath Wednesday

The White House announced that Herter will be sworn in as secretary at a White House ceremony Wednesday.

Confirmation came only a few hours after Herter won an expected unanimous vote of approval from the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Herter, with the metal crutches he wears because of arthritis, appeared before the committee to answer questions on his views.

The only serious quizzing he got came from Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore), who posed a series of "if" questions centering on: Would this country resort to nuclear warfare if the Soviets started shooting down American planes on the corridor to Berlin?

"Not necessarily," was Herter's prompt response.

Wouldn't Start Atom War

Morse then asked: "Is it your position we would then be free and should proceed to all-out war with Russia, encompassing the dropping of nuclear and hydrogen bombs?

"No, sir, I don't believe in the initial stages such a course would be justified," Herter answered. But he added quickly: "If it became clear Russia was resorting to all-out war, I think we would have to consider a change in our position."

Herter is a former member of Congress and has served as governor of Massachusetts.

Trapped Felons Surrender, Woman Hostage Unhurt

Pair's Threats Hold Off Law For Six Hours

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP)—Two convicts escaped from San Quentin Prison Tuesday, then held off the law for six hours from the end of a long fishing pier in San Francisco Bay by threatening to kill a woman hostage.

They finally surrendered without violence after throwing away fishbait knives they had brandished at the woman's throat. They had threatened to slash her throat and then kill themselves unless allowed to make good their escape.

They used a man hostage as a messenger to deliver their threats to officers clustered 100 yards toward shore from the end of the half-mile-long open pier near the prison.

As the day wore on they became calm and ceased brandishing the knives.

Finally, shortly before 3 p.m., they promised to free the hostages if they could tell their grievances to newspaper reporters.

Day Of Suspence

San Quentin Warden Fred R. Dickson and Dist. Atty. William O. Weissich selected the Marin County correspondents for three San Francisco newspapers and went to within 25 yards of the pier end for the conference.

The three reporters were Chuck Eischen of the Examiner, Charlotte Riznik of the Chronicle and Jerry Adams of the News.

After the conference the prisoners threw the knives far out into the bay and meekly surrendered.

They released unharmed Mrs. Louise Gschwend, a middle-aged San Francisco housewife, and her fishing companion, Douglas Harrison, formerly of Fresno.

It was a quiet, anticlimactic ending to a day of suspense.

It began at 9 a.m. when Billy Joe Wright, 26, ran from a grass-cutting detail and William D. Werner, 24, broke away from his job in the prison quarry. Both were outside the prison walls of San Quentin point, 20 miles north of San Francisco.

Fishing Parties Scatter

Scaling a 12-foot wire fence, they raced directly to the pier, which juts from shore only a half-mile from the prison gates. Guards ran after them.

A dozen or so fishing parties on the pier of the Marin Rod and Gun Club scattered quickly.

Snatching up bait knives, the convicts grabbed Mrs. Gschwend by the hair and dragged her to the end of the open pier.

With her they seized her fishing companion, Douglas Harrison.

Wright, a stocky, blue-eyed laborer, was serving six months to 15 years for burglary in Trinity County, Calif., and Werner, almost identical in description, was serving five years to life for burglary in Fresno County, Calif.

Red China Will Join Warsaw Pact Conferees

MOSCOW (AP) — Communist China joins the Soviet Union and seven European Communist nations next week in Warsaw to discuss world Communist objectives for the foreign ministers conference in Geneva.

The announcement Tuesday by the official Soviet news agency Tass failed to make clear whether the Communist Chinese will be present with the Warsaw Pact nations as an observer, or as full participant.

The meeting is called for April 27, two days in advance of a Western strategy meeting in Paris to examine positions with relation to the May 11 conference in Geneva.

The Tass announcement said the Warsaw Pact meeting "will review questions connected with the coming Geneva talks concerning Germany, including a peace treaty with Germany and the question of abolishing the occupation regime in Western Berlin."

Whether Communist China is present as full participant or observer, its attendance indicates an intention to present a solid Communist world front to defend and advance Soviet positions in Europe.

The communique's wording indicated the Red bloc hopes to restrict the Geneva foreign ministers' conference to discussion of the twin Soviet demands—a proposal to make West Berlin a "free city" without occupation forces, and an insistence that the two sides in the cold war sign peace treaties with both West and Communist East Germany.

The Warsaw Pact is a military alliance of the Soviet Union with the Communist-governed states of Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Bulgaria, Romania, Albania and East Germany.

Escaped Mental Patient Admits Strangling Boy

DETROIT (UPI)—A 47-year-old escaped mental patient, who thought he was being followed by "government spies and electronics men," confessed after his arrest Tuesday that he had strangled a 5-year-old boy, police said.

The body of Marvin Zdanowski was found in the loft of a garage behind his home Monday night by police searchers after his deaf mute parents had reported him missing.

Although the suspect, George Ritola, described in detail how he had slain the boy and hidden his body, he was unable to give police a clear motive. He said he had known and liked the boy, but the boy "became a martyr for the government."

Police said Ritola escaped last September from a hospital at Galesburg, Ill., where he had been confined as "seriously disturbed mentally."

Starkweather Denied Mercy

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI)—The Nebraska Pardon Board today refused to spare the life of mass killer Charles Starkweather and ordered his death in the electric chair on May 22.

The bandy-legged slayer of 11 persons pleaded remorsefully for his life before Attorney General C. S. Beck and Secretary of State Frank Marsh.

"Before, I didn't think much of it, but life is now worth something," the ex-garbage collector said in a soft, faltering voice.

"I'm sorry for what I did. If there was a way I could bring them back I would.

"Where there is life there is hope. I can always hope."

Beck and Marsh, who together with ailing Gov. Ralph G. Brooks comprise the Pardon Board, listened to the red-haired killer for 20 minutes in the Nebraska State Penitentiary. Almost as soon as Starkweather, 20, had stopped talking, the board members denied him hope.

Parents Lose All Rights To Infant, Narcotics Addict

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The parents of a baby who apparently was a narcotics addict at birth lost all rights to the child Monday by court order.

Judge J. W. Mills ended the parents' rights after a doctor testified the infant was treated for withdrawal from drugs the mother presumably had been taking.

The mother, Billie Ray Bayly, 27, is serving a two-year sentence for burglary. The father, Danny Edward Bayly, also 27, is to appear in court Wednesday on a charge of burglary.

The baby, Dana Lee, was born Feb. 5.

Dr. Murdina Desmond testified the infant had to be given morphine to control high fever and tremors. He attributed the condition to withdrawal from narcotics addiction believed to have been caused by the mother's use of drugs before the baby's birth.

Castro May Not Seek Election To Presidency

NEW YORK (AP) — Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro said Tuesday he may not seek the presidency when free elections finally are held in his island republic. He added that when that day will come he doesn't know.

"For myself, I don't know what to do," the revolutionary hero told a news conference shortly after his arrival here for a five-day visit. A tumultous welcome greeted him in New York, as a surging horde of admirers all but overwhelmed his police guard.

Castro told newsmen his new government might set a date for elections next month. But when they actually would be held is another matter. In Washington, he had said it might be four years before his people are ready for free elections.

"The sooner free elections, the best for us," he declared. But Castro explained that Cuba's political parties are badly disorganized and time is needed to form new ones.

Asked whether he would seek the presidency, Castro replied:

"I have no thoughts on that at present for I am working."

Enraged Strikers Continue Mill Siege

Accuse Management Of Betraying Pact

HENDERSON, N.C. (AP)—Enraged, frustrated strikers, convinced that management had betrayed their new contract by refusing them immediate return to work, continued an angry, yelling siege Tuesday of gates at the Harriet-Henderson Cotton Mills.

About 100 highway patrolmen, summoned during the night, escorted some 300 nonstrikers from the two plants. They had spent the night there while police, armed with riot guns, machine guns and tear gas, patrolled outside and a cluster of strikers challenged the workers to come out.

The officers escorted workers on the day shift to the plants amid threats and jeers from the strikers. Three cars were stoned and officers broke up a fight between one of the drivers and a striker.

Disgruntled bystanders yelled and jeered as the day shift left, but there were no incidents. At the south Henderson plant, there seemed to be fewer coming to work on the second shift than did Monday night.

Police Chief C. C. Harris said his men would try to get the second shift workers out after the end of their work at 11 p.m., assisted by the state troopers.

About 250 strikers were on hand as shifts changed at the south plant.

"You yellow bellies," shouted one, "we'll get you tonight." Another screamed, "Yellow, yellow bunch of scabs. You're scared to walk in," as the nonstrikers' cars went in the gates. Many of the vehicles had broken windshields.

The Textile Workers Union declined to accept the new contract negotiated by Gov. Luther Hodges Friday and ratified Sunday by overwhelming vote of its members, when the second shift was put on Monday night. Boyd Payton, regional director of the union, said the union had been given to expect that although nonstrikers would continue on the first shift, which has been working since Feb. 16, that strikers would get most of the jobs on the second shift, and on the third when it is put into effect. Instead, only 30 strikers were put back to work Monday night.

Monday night a dynamite blast ripped up a section of earth inside the plant gates. A few rifle shots broke windows or ricocheted off plant walls.

Eisenhower Returns From Ga. Vacation

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower returned Tuesday from a two-week vacation in Augusta, Ga.

The President's personal plane landed at Washington National Airport at 4:20 p.m.

Ending a vacation at the Augusta National Golf Club, Eisenhower departed in a light drizzle aboard his private plane, Columbine III.

Russia Again Warns Bonn

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union warned West Germany Tuesday that its position as a nuclear arsenal of the West in any future war would be "militarily hopeless."

The warning was given in a note handed to West German Ambassador Hans Kroll in a 15-minute call on Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko here.

The note re-emphasized previous Soviet warnings that West Germany is laying itself open to dangerous consequences by arming with U.S.-supplied nuclear weapons.

Such an action, the note declared, "considerably increases the danger of a military clash—in the prevention of which the Federal Republic of Germany is not likely to be less interested than the Soviet Union and the other states of Europe.

"The Soviet government is convinced that the government of the Federal Republic of Germany is making a serious miscalculation in underrating this state of affairs."

Snark Logs Successful 2,000-Mile Round Trip

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A Snark intercontinental guided missile logged an apparently highly successful round trip Tuesday after being fired by a crack military crew.

The fiery launching was one of the final tune-ups for the 69-foot Northrop missile that is expected to be assigned to combat troops within the next two months.

Sources said the predawn shoot ran like clockwork as the sleek missile cruised close to 1,000 miles over the Atlantic, spun around and alighted back on the Cape's landing strip several hours later.

The same missile completed a similar flight several months ago.

Later, a supersonic Bomarc interceptor missile blazed aloft to seek out and "kill" a simulated enemy target over the Atlantic. It was the final launching of the present Bomarc series from the Cape.

The sleek Boeing missile, which has made more than 50 flights from the Cape, was aimed at a pilotless drone plane cruising some 200 miles out to sea.

Future Bomarc tests from the Cape will be made with a super version of the missile, capable of twice the present range. The first flight may come late this spring.

The regular Bomarc, dubbed IM99A, will be run through further tests at a new launching base on Santa Rosa Island off the Florida Gulf Coast before it becomes operational.

The new Bomarc, called Model B, will be powered by a solid-fuel booster. It will carry an improved target seeker and will be capable of ranges in excess of 400 miles.

Most Of Nation's Business Indicators Up, But Farm Income Shows Big Drop

WASHINGTON (AP) — Almost all the business indicators went up in March, but there is depressing news for the nation's farmers.

The Agriculture Department said Tuesday farmers' realized net income this year probably will be down about a billion dollars, or nearly 8 per cent. Realized net income is the amount left after paying production costs.

A report on the farm income situation forecast earnings at about $12,100,000,000 compared with $13,100,000,000 last year. This prospective decline is based on a lower level of farm product prices expected to continue through the year and a sharp reduction in government payments.

The forecast came at a time when government economists had been predicting higher income for the nation as a whole this year. It is likely to stir up new demands in Congress that something be done to improve the agricultural outlook.

The Commerce Department said in a separate report that the nation's total output reached a record rate of 465 billion dollars a year in the first quarter of 1959. It rose at a rate which, if continued, could carry it to 475 billion or beyond in this three-month period.

This was solid progress, the department said in the Apri' issue of its magazine, Survey of Current Business, because prices were virtually stable and did not inflate the production estimate.

"A rise in corporate profits is indicated by the increased sales in most lines of business," the department said. Profit figures for the first quarter have not yet been compiled.

Profits rose steeply throughout 1958—from a rate of $31,700,000,000 in the first quarter, at the depth of the recession, to $45,200,000,000 in the final quarter. Most government economists expect profits to exceed all previous highs this year.

The consumer price index for March is due Wednesday. It is not expected to show much shift from the February level, 123.7 per cent of the 1947-49 average. This is a trifle below the cost of living peak reached last July and again in November.

Senate Test Votes Victory For Kennedy

T-H Act Provisions Retained, Drive To Add Others Fails

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate rejected efforts to strip proposed Taft-Hartley Act changes from the Kennedy labor bill Tuesday.

Then it turned back an effort to write in Taft-Hartley changes sought by the Eisenhower administration.

On the first floor test, an amendment of Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. (D-NC) to eliminate all the Taft-Hartley provisions was beaten 67-27. Most of these provisions long have been sought by labor.

Two hours later, the Senate turned down a proposal of Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois to substitute the Eisenhower administration's Taft-Hartley proposals for those in the Kennedy measure. The vote on this was 67-24.

Victory For Kennedy

The chief effect of this substitute would have been to add to the Kennedy measure two Taft-Hartley changes which the administration contends are needed in any effective regulation bill.

These would have banned all secondary boycotts and sharply limited organizational picketing.

The result of the first day of voting on the bill was a considerable victory for Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), chief sponsor of the legislation.

He led the defense against attacks both from those who wanted all of its Taft-Hartley provisions knocked out and those who wanted to go further than his measure.

However, the major floor tests probably will come later in the week.

These are expected when other amendments are offered to try to put in organizational picketing and secondary boycott bans and to alter other provisions in the Kennedy bill.

Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark), chairman of the Senate Labor-Management Committee, has promised to lead the fight for these separate amendments.

Ervin's Argument

Backers of the Ervin amendment argued the main objectives of the Kennedy bill would be endangered if it wasn't limited to antiracketeering provisions.

They contended that leaving in the few proposed Taft-Hartley law changes would invite a flood of amendments aimed at overhaul of the basic labor-management law. This, they said, would tie up the Senate for a long time and hurt chances of enacting cleanup legislation.

"Union members so unfortunate as to be saddled with dictatorial officers or corrupt officers are entitled to immediate relief," said Ervin, who is cosponsoring the Kennedy bill.

Dalai Lama Reaches Indian City Of Exile

MUSSOORIE, India (AP)—The Dalai Lama took up residence in exile Tuesday in a 32-room mansion 75 miles south of the snow-covered Himalayan border of Tibet.

The Tibetan god-king ended his trip by foot, donkey, pony, car and by train five weeks after fleeing from Lhasa, his Communist-occupied capital.

Scores of security police and plainclothes men dotted the 55-acre grounds of his new home behind a still incomplete barbed wire fence as the Dalai Lama arrived with his usual sunny smile.

Mussoorie — pronounced similarly to Missouri—is 6,800 feet up in the Himalayan foothills. It is 150 miles north of New Delhi.

Macmillan Endorses Ike's A-Test Ban Plan

LONDON (UPI) — The British government disclosed Tuesday that Prime Minister Harold Macmillan had sent a personal letter to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev backing President Eisenhower's written plea for a partial ban on nuclear tests.

A foreign office announcement said Macmillan told Khrushchev he agreed with Eisenhower that it would be desirable and useful to have a gradual suspension on nuclear tests, beginning with a ban on atmospheric explosions up to a 30-mile altitude.

The Eisenhower appeal, also made in a letter to Khrushchev, was aimed at breaking the deadlock in the six-month old Geneva nuclear conference.

Eisenhower Returns From Ga. Vacation

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower returned Tuesday from a two-week vacation in Augusta, Ga.

The President's personal plane landed at Washington National Airport at 4:20 p.m.

Ending a vacation at the Augusta National Golf Club, Eisenhower departed in a light drizzle aboard his private plane, Columbine III.

Senate Test Votes Victory For Kennedy

T-H Act Provisions Retained, Drive To Add Others Fails

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate rejected efforts to strip proposed Taft-Hartley Act changes from the Kennedy labor bill Tuesday.

Then it turned back an effort to write in Taft-Hartley changes sought by the Eisenhower administration.

On the first floor test, an amendment of Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. (D-NC) to eliminate all the Taft-Hartley provisions was beaten 67-27. Most of these provisions long have been sought by labor.

Two hours later, the Senate turned down a proposal of Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois to substitute the Eisenhower administration's Taft-Hartley proposals for those in the Kennedy measure. The vote on this was 67-24.

Victory For Kennedy

The chief effect of this substitute would have been to add to the Kennedy measure two Taft-Hartley changes which the administration contends are needed in any effective regulation bill.

These would have banned all secondary boycotts and sharply limited organizational picketing.

The result of the first day of voting on the bill was a considerable victory for Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), chief sponsor of the legislation.

He led the defense against attacks both from those who wanted all of its Taft-Hartley provisions knocked out and those who wanted to go further than his measure.

However, the major floor tests probably will come later in the week.

These are expected when other amendments are offered to try to put in organizational picketing and secondary boycott bans and to alter other provisions in the Kennedy bill.

Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark), chairman of the Senate Labor-Management Committee, has promised to lead the fight for these separate amendments.

Ervin's Argument

Backers of the Ervin amendment argued the main objectives of the Kennedy bill would be endangered if it wasn't limited to antiracketeering provisions.

They contended that leaving in the few proposed Taft-Hartley law changes would invite a flood of amendments aimed at overhaul of the basic labor-management law. This, they said, would tie up the Senate for a long time and hurt chances of enacting cleanup legislation.

"Union members so unfortunate as to be saddled with dictatorial officers or corrupt officers are entitled to immediate relief," said Ervin, who is cosponsoring the Kennedy bill.

Dalai Lama Reaches Indian City Of Exile

MUSSOORIE, India (AP)—The Dalai Lama took up residence in exile Tuesday in a 32-room mansion 75 miles south of the snow-covered Himalayan border of Tibet.

The Tibetan god-king ended his trip by foot, donkey, pony, car and by train five weeks after fleeing from Lhasa, his Communist-occupied capital.

Scores of security police and plainclothes men dotted the 55-acre grounds of his new home behind a still incomplete barbed wire fence as the Dalai Lama arrived with his usual sunny smile.

Mussoorie — pronounced similarly to Missouri—is 6,800 feet up in the Himalayan foothills. It is 150 miles north of New Delhi.

Parents Lose All Rights To Infant, Narcotics Addict

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The parents of a baby who apparently was a narcotics addict at birth lost all rights to the child Monday by court order.

Judge J. W. Mills ended the parents' rights after a doctor testified the infant was treated for withdrawal from drugs the mother presumably had been taking.

The mother, Billie Ray Bayly, 27, is serving a two-year sentence for burglary. The father, Danny Edward Bayly, also 27, is to appear in court Wednesday on a charge of burglary.

The baby, Dana Lee, was born Feb. 5.

Dr. Murdina Desmond testified the infant had to be given morphine to control high fever and tremors. He attributed the condition to withdrawal from narcotics addiction believed to have been caused by the mother's use of drugs before the baby's birth.

Snark Logs Successful 2,000-Mile Round Trip

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A Snark intercontinental guided missile logged an apparently highly successful round trip Tuesday after being fired by a crack military crew.

The fiery launching was one of the final tune-ups for the 69-foot Northrop missile that is expected to be assigned to combat troops within the next two months.

Sources said the predawn shoot ran like clockwork as the sleek missile cruised close to 1,000 miles over the Atlantic, spun around and alighted back on the Cape's landing strip several hours later.

The same missile completed a similar flight several months ago.

Later, a supersonic Bomarc interceptor missile blazed aloft to seek out and "kill" a simulated enemy target over the Atlantic. It was the final launching of the present Bomarc series from the Cape.

The sleek Boeing missile, which has made more than 50 flights from the Cape, was aimed at a pilotless drone plane cruising some 200 miles out to sea.

Future Bomarc tests from the Cape will be made with a super version of the missile, capable of twice the present range. The first flight may come late this spring.

The regular Bomarc, dubbed IM99A, will be run through further tests at a new launching base on Santa Rosa Island off the Florida Gulf Coast before it becomes operational.

The new Bomarc, called Model B, will be powered by a solid-fuel booster. It will carry an improved target seeker and will be capable of ranges in excess of 400 miles.

Russia Again Warns Bonn

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union warned West Germany Tuesday that its position as a nuclear arsenal of the West in any future war would be "militarily hopeless."

The warning was given in a note handed to West German Ambassador Hans Kroll in a 15-minute call on Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko here.

The note re-emphasized previous Soviet warnings that West Germany is laying itself open to dangerous consequences by arming with U.S.-supplied nuclear weapons.

Such an action, the note declared, "considerably increases the danger of a military clash—in the prevention of which the Federal Republic of Germany is not likely to be less interested than the Soviet Union and the other states of Europe.

"The Soviet government is convinced that the government of the Federal Republic of Germany is making a serious miscalculation in underrating this state of affairs."

Most Of Nation's Business Indicators Up, But Farm Income Shows Big Drop

WASHINGTON (AP) — Almost all the business indicators went up in March, but there is depressing news for the nation's farmers.

The Agriculture Department said Tuesday farmers' realized net income this year probably will be down about a billion dollars, or nearly 8 per cent. Realized net income is the amount left after paying production costs.

A report on the farm income situation forecast earnings at about $12,100,000,000 compared with $13,100,000,000 last year. This prospective decline is based on a lower level of farm product prices expected to continue through the year and a sharp reduction in government payments.

The forecast came at a time when government economists had been predicting higher income for the nation as a whole this year. It is likely to stir up new demands in Congress that something be done to improve the agricultural outlook.

The Commerce Department said in a separate report that the nation's total output reached a record rate of 465 billion dollars a year in the first quarter of 1959. It rose at a rate which, if continued, could carry it to 475 billion or beyond in this three-month period.

This was solid progress, the department said in the April issue of its magazine, Survey of Current Business, because prices were virtually stable and did not inflate the production estimate.

"A rise in corporate profits is indicated by the increased sales in most lines of business," the department said. Profit figures for the first quarter have not yet been compiled.

Profits rose steeply throughout 1958—from a rate of $31,700,000,000 in the first quarter, at the depth of the recession, to $45,200,000,000 in the final quarter. Most government economists expect profits to exceed all previous highs this year.

The consumer price index for March is due Wednesday. It is not expected to show much shift from the February level, 123.7 per cent of the 1947-49 average. This is a trifle below the cost of living peak reached last July and again in November.

Macmillan Endorses Ike's A-Test Ban Plan

LONDON (UPI) — The British government disclosed Tuesday that Prime Minister Harold Macmillan had sent a personal letter to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev backing President Eisenhower's written plea for a partial ban on nuclear tests.

A foreign office announcement said Macmillan told Khrushchev he agreed with Eisenhower that it would be desirable and useful to have a gradual suspension on nuclear tests, beginning with a ban on atmospheric explosions up to a 30-mile altitude.

The Eisenhower appeal, also made in a letter to Khrushchev, was aimed at breaking the deadlock in the six-month old Geneva nuclear conference.

British Ballerina Jailed By Panama In Plot Probe

PANAMA (AP)—Dame Margot Fonteyn, the great British ballerina, occupied the best jail cell in Panama City Tuesday.

It's a special cell designed for VIPs, including even any ex-presidents who may slip from power to jail.

The 39-year-old Miss Fonteyn was in comparative luxury but was allowed no visitors as she awaited questioning about an alleged plot against the government involving her Panamanian husband, Roberto Arias.

The special cell is on the top floor of the three-story main jail. A high concrete wall surrounds the jail which is located in front of a Chinese cemetery.

The folks back home in London found it hard to picture Miss Fonteyn in jail and just as hard to be serious about it. "I'll bet she's enjoying it all," said an official of the Royal Ballet where Miss Fonteyn has been prima ballerina for a decade.

Panamanian officials planned to question her. The government is more interested in her husband, a 41-year-old prominent Panamanian politician and an ex-president's son.

He has been charged with revolutionary activities but has not been found.

Miss Fonetyn's arrest was the most noted of several arrests in Panama over the weekend. The government of President Ernesto de la Guardia Jr. has been jittery over reports of an impending invasion by rebels.

Questioning by Panamanian officials would clear the way for Miss Fonteyn to petition for release in bail if the government doesn't release her voluntarily.

The British Embassy asked the Panamanian government for a report on the ballerina's arrest and wanted a consular official to visit her. Officials said she did not lose her British citizenship by marrying Arias.

A well-informed source said Miss Fonteyn would be kept incommunicado until local officials question her.

Tawes Predicts Grady Victory In Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP) — Gov. Tawes Tuesday night predicted a landslide victory for J. Harold Grady as mayor of Baltimore May 5 and said he is "eagerly anticipating" working with him.

"As two Democrats working together, I am confident that we will be able to accomplish many things for the city of Baltimore that would not be possible should the Republican party grasp control of the city administration," he said.

The Democratic governor spoke at a "good government dinner" honoring the ticket of Grady for mayor, J. Walter Graham for comptroller and Sen. Philip H. Goodman for president of the City Council. He gave all three candidates a warm and enthusiastic endorsement.

Grady will be opposed by former Republican Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin in the city's general election two weeks from Tuesday.

Tawes, who had endorsed Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro in the primary which Grady won by landslide proportions, said the young state's attorney and former FBI agent had emerged from the election "as one of the strongest political figures to appear on the Baltimore scene in a long while." He predicted Grady will make "one of the greatest mayors Baltimore has had in all its long history."

5,000 Broilers Lost In Eastern Shore Fire

PRESTON, Md. (AP) — About 5,000 one-month-old broilers were barbequed with the feathers on early Tuesday night when fire destroyed a chicken house.

The fire occurred at a farm two miles northwest of this Caroline County town, leased by a family which was one of the originators of the broiler business on the Eastern Shore. Howard M. Harris leased the farm from Tapp Feed Co. His father Joseph P. Harris started a business in 1921.

Howard Harris said an oil burner, used because of the unseasonably cool weather, apparently exploded in the building. The loss was covered at least partially by insurance.

Ailing Godfrey Asks Fans 'Keep Fingers Crossed'

NEW YORK (AP)—Entertainer Arthur Godfrey, facing chest surgery for a possible cancer, asked his television fans Tuesday to "keep your fingers crossed."

"I think I'll be back with you again one day," he said on a pretaped morning radio broadcast in which he revealed he expects to be off the air at least two months.

Godfrey flew to his Leesburg, Va., farm Monday to rest up before an exploratory operation here next week. He has a chest tumor and doctors want to determine if it is cancerous.

Godfrey, 55, has been broadcasting for 30 years. In 1953, he had an operation to correct a hip condition resulting from an auto accident in 1931.

Westinghouse Navy Contracts Draw GAO Fire

WASHINGTON (AP)—The General Accounting Office (GAO) told Congress Tuesday that the government bore excessive costs on navy contracts with Westinghouse Electric Corp.'s Air Arm Division in Baltimore.

The contracts were for development and production of airborne flight control and fire control electronic equipment for the Army, the Navy and the Air Force. Each service administered its own contracts, but the Navy had audit authority over all of them.

GAO said excessive costs resulted from negotiation of a contract price based on estimated costs. It said actual costs, $933,463 lower than the estimates, already had been incurred and the contractor received excessive reimbursement for royalties.

The contract price, GAO said in a formal report, was negotiated three months after all deliveries had been made. But it added Navy representatives were not furnished complete cost data and their negotiations were based on costs through only 40 per cent of the production program.

The total price negotiated, GAO reported, contemplated costs of $14,828,260 while actual costs, which it said were available to the contractor, totaled $13,894,797. These were $933,463 less than the Navy figured in its negotiations.

Charles Town Land Annexation Defeated

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. (AP) —The city folks liked the idea but the suburban folks didn't, so Charles Town won't be able to take 817 more acres of land into the city limits.

The special referendum election Tuesday would also have annexed the two nearby race tracks if an affirmative vote had carried in the suburbs.

The proposed boundary extensions would have provided Charles Town with $50,000 more in tax revenue from the tracks alone. Some 200 homes and business properties also are located in the outlying areas.

About 25 per cent of the eligible voters in the city balloted 389-72 in favor of annexation. The 80 per cent of eligible voters in the outlying area were 248-176 against the plan. A simple majority in both the city and suburbs was necessary to carry.

Bridges' World Boycott Claim Stirs Legislators

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harry Bridges, Pacific Coast longshore union leader, testified Tuesday his dock workers would honor a request from unions in Communist nations not to handle shipping in United States ports.

In a sense, he said, international transport unions could invoke a worldwide shipping boycott in support of union aims.

The fast-talking, sure-of-himself president of the International Longshoremen's & Warehousemen's Union aroused members of the House Committee on Un-American Activities with his replies to their questions.

Such international reciprocity among transport workers constitutes a great danger to the national interest, Rep. Clyde Doyle (D-Calif) declared.

Rep. Gordon H. Scherer (R-Ohio) told Bridges it was almost inconceivable he had so much power. Scherer said Congress should curb the powers of such men as Bridges and James R. Hoffa, Teamster union president.

Bridges, in a long day of back talk with the committee, was questioned about conferences he had with international labor leaders and foreign Communists during a trip to Europe last January and February.

In the process, Bridges invoked the Fifth Amendment against self incrimination for what he said was "the first time in my life." This was when asked whether he or certain members of his union were Communists.

Missionaries Will Be Honored At Family Night

Rev. and Mrs. Raymond Provost Jr., missionaries in the Kyung Dong Presbytery of South Korea, will be guests of honor at a Church Family Night dinner at First Presbyterian Church today at 6:30 p. m.

The Provosts are supported in their work in Korea by the First Presbyterian Church.

In addition to the support of the Provosts in their missionary endeavor, First Presbyterian Church has been considering a benevolence project, the building of a new church building at Young Chun, Korea, to replace the present temporary structure and the Provosts will tell of the work and the need in that area.

Rev. and Mrs. Provost and their three children are on leave in this country while Mr. Provost does further graduate work at Princeton Theological Seminary. They will be leaving to resume their work in Korea this summer.

Local Group To Attend C&O Canal Hike Dinner

A number of notables have indicated they will take the fifth anniversary hike of the C&O Canal walk this coming weekend.

And a good-sized delegation of Allegany County residents will attend the anniversary reception and dinner in Hancock High School on Saturday.

From this county will be Thomas B. Finan, secretary of state of Maryland; Mrs. Lucile Roeder, Cumberland's commissioner of finance; Francis A. Kenney, manager of the local agency of the Department of Employment Security and a longtime booster of a water-level route to the east, and Mrs. Kenney;, retired Chief Judge George Henderson, chairman of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce and the Oldtown Sportsmen's Club canal committees; and four members of the Oldtown Sportsmen's Club headed by Isaac T. Long.

The hiking group will convene Friday night at the Strauss Explorer Scout Camp on the Allegany-Washington County line where Sideling Hill Creek empties into the Potomac River.

Saturday morning after a campout Friday night, the hikers —as they were in 1954, will be led by Associate Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas.

They will walk 14 miles along the towpath to Hancock where dinner will be served in the Hancock High School cafeteria.

On the program with Justice Douglas will be Rep. John R. Foley of Maryland's Sixth District; former Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde, Foley's predecessor; U. S. Senator Charles Porter, of Oregon, and District of Columbia Commissioners Robert McLaughlin and Gen. A. C. Welling.

Also attending will be Conrad Wirth, director of the National Park Service, and Ben Thompson, director of Region 5 of the National Park Service, both of whom have been instrumental in forwarding an historical park plan for the canal.

Prentis Taylor, an artist, will bring some of his paintings of the canal to the dinner.

HOLLYWOOD

By Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — Alfred Hitchcock, who was laid up for a few days, is well again and getting ready to leave for England. He wanted Richard Burton to play opposite Audrey Hepburn in "No Bail for the Judge", but Richard cannot make another picture in England at this time because of his tax situation. He lives in Switzerland and can work only a certain number of days in his own country.

Audrey will be here May 5 to consult about wardrobe. Hitchy plans to film the Epsom Downs English Derby on June 3 as a part of "No Bail for the Judge". That will be very interesting and is really one of the big events not only for British royalty, but for the commoners. The whole royal family was there the day I saw the big race.

About six months ago I carried an item in my column saying that I had seen a beautiful girl operating an elevator at Saks Fifth Avenue, and that some talent scout should sign her for a screen test.

Ben Bard of 20th Century-Fox took my tip and went searching for her. Her name is Flavia Anderson, and Ben found she had left Saks and was doing the same work at Haggarty's. He's entered her in the studio drama school and they'll try to make an actress of her.

I didn't know I was such a good talent scout, and I had many letters after that story telling me of other beautiful elevator girls. Remember Dorothy Lamour was discovered as an elevator girl at Marshall Fields in Chicago.

Telephoned Boris Karloff to say au revoir because I had been told he is moving to his native England.

He laughed and said, "I'll be back—I've commitments for two pictures in the U.S.A. I came here 50 years ago on a visit and I have been here ever since."

He has just finished a TV show "Indian Giver," which will be shown May 17 by General Electric. Karloff, who played so many sinister roles, assumed the name Karloff. His real name is William Henry Pratt. He's a nice guy and I'm glad he's coming back.

Tailor Sy Devore's list of "ten best dressed men" led off with Cary Grant and gave a top spot to Conrad Hilton, Sr. (non-clients). The full list numbers Cary, Bill Holden, Dean Martin, Nat King Cole, Harry Karl, Hilton, Sr., Jerry Lewis, Leo Durocher, Louis Wolfson (another non-customer) and, of all people, Bing Crosby.

Sy argues for Bing, "He began changing his wardrobe taste three years ago when he began admiring the way Bill Holden dressed. Prior to that he was on most worst-dressed lists." Cary Grant, Devore says, is probably the most copied male in the world in his attire.

Tony Curtis, who will do a guest spot in "Oceans 11" for Frank Sinatra and Peter Lawford, plays a deaf blackjack dealer.

In the opening sequences you see Tony wearing a hearing apparatus and the Casino at the Sands in Las Vegas, where he deals, is loud, with much action. Before he flashes off the screen Tony takes off his hearing aid and there's a dead silence. Quite a gimmick.

Commissioners Get Invitation

In routine business Friday the Allegany County Board of Commissioners received an invitation from Postmaster Thomas F. Conlon Sr. to attend the dedication of the new Post Office in LaVale.

The dedication will be held at 2 p. m. on Saturday, May 9. A program is being arranged by the volunteer firemen of the community with Thomas L. Smith as chairman, Mr. Conlon said.

The board wrote a letter to the Hygienic Sanitation Company Inc., city, and Vogel-Ritt of Penn-Mar-Va Inc. of Hagerstown, that the commissioners are going to discontinue termite service at the Welfare Board Building here as they have been informed the service is no longer needed.

City Appointments Made

Several appointments were approved by the Mayor and Council Monday.

Miss Janet Robertson was named temporary stenographer in the Recreation Department at $170 a month to serve during the leave of absence of Mrs. Helen Carroll Leo. The appointment was effective Monday. Miss Robertson is not on the eligible list for appointment but Recreation Director Eugene Mason said one of the two on the list was not interested and the other had another job, he understood. He recommended Miss Robertson after interviewing six or eight candidates sent him by the state employment office and Catherman's business school, Mason said. The Civil Service Commission will be asked to provide an eligible list.

Council also named Miss Nancy Maureen Cavanaugh as temporary switchboard operator at City Hall at a salary of $165 a month. She will serve until an eligible list is provided.

Mrs. Marguerite Findlay was placed on the payroll as supervisor of city parks at $163 a month. The appointment is effective April 1 and continues until December 31.

Council approved an agreement with Warren R. Mullenax, operator of Municipal Airport, for maintenance. It was agreed to continue Charles F. Heller as superintendent of maintenance at $200 a month with the city crediting his salary and assessments against monthly and bonus rentals charged Mullenax.

County Briefed On How To Get Surplus Items

The commissioners of Allegany, Garrett, Washington and Frederick counties were informed Monday in Washington their units may obtain surplus federal equipment without cost under certain circumstances.

The commissioners were guests of Rep. John R Foley at a luncheon in the dining room of the speaker of the House of Representatives.

William J. Hudson, assistant chief of the property sales assistance division of the Small Business Administration, explained the program after Rep. Foley stated a request for such equipment had been made by the Board of Allegany County Commissioners.

Hudson said most of the material available is the property of the Department of Defense. He said lists of available equipment may be obtained from the state surplus property director.

Equipment may be obtained without charge if uses can be shown for educational, health or Civil Defense purposes.

John J. Rowan, president of the Allegany board, said the county needs two heavy trucks, a bulldozer and a compressor to improve county roads for the purpose of transporting children to school.

Rowan stated the county could use the equipment immediately to get roads in shape by next fall. The board president said county officials will confer with Ralph R. Webster, school superintendent, and expressed the view: "I am sure we will come up with something."

Hudson suggested that board members also contact health and Civil Defense officials relative to their needs.

Also representing Allegany County at the meeting was Commissioner William A. Wilson. Commissioner John Tucker Mason was unable to attend.

Attending from Garrett County were Board President Carl A. Schell, vice President Fred B. Glotfelty, member E. B. Garletts, and Assistant Supervisor of Roads Paul W. DeWitt.

Committee Ready For Mibs Event

The Youth Committee of the Cumberland Lions Club will be sponsor of the City Marbles Championships to be staged here next month.

Recreation Director C. Eugene Mason said Rev. A. C. Prevatte is chairman of the Lions Committee and is cooperating in the Recreation Department venture.

The Lions Club will award T-shirts to champions of each of the 17 schools which will select representatives for the finals at eliminations rounds May 15. The champion will be determined the week of May 25 with the exact date to be announced later.

Mrs. Eva M. Hogan, assistant recreation director, said several schools have named supervisors for the elimination rounds. They include Edward Geis, Centre Street; Chester See, Virginia Avenue; William Pugh, Columbia Street; Harry Thomas, Gephart; Mrs. Robertine Murray, Mrs. Dorothy Rowe, Mrs. Grace Brady, Mrs. Wilda Willis, John Humbird; John Elliott, Arthur Lloyd, Mt. Royal; David Phillips, West Side; and East Side where each teacher will supervise her own home room.

Other schools will announce supervisors later, Mrs. Hogan said.

In addition to the two recreation officials and Mr. Prevatte's committee, others serving on the advisory group are J. William Hunt, former editor of the Sunday Times and executive committeeman of the National Marbles Tournament who conducted the Times-News tourney here in former years: Robert E. Pence, physical education supervisor for the Allegany County Board of Education; and City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery, a former city marbles champion.

Hunt For Burglars

NEWTON, Iowa (UPI)—Police Tuesday hunted for civic-minded burglars who broke into the Newton Daily News' office, pried open a safe's steel cash drawers and made off with $826—but left $20 behind.

The $20 had been clearly marked "for the Red Cross."

Airport Structure Truss Arrives

A 60-foot long, two-ton center truss for a new building at Municipal Airport was delivered yesterday by Structures, Inc., of Johnstown.

Mayor J. Edwin Keech and City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum witnessed arrival by truck of the equipment at the airport. The new building will replace a structure which burned some months ago.

The two also discussed flood control maintenance with Rex E. Dexter, project engineer for the U. S. Corps of Engineers, and the acceptance ceremony scheduled for Saturday, May 9. They also inspected installation of a new water line in the Constitution Park vicinity.

Yesterday, Mayor Keech and Water Commissioner G. Ray Light visited the Water Department warehouse on Willowbrook Road.

Fallout Exercise

LONDON (UPI) — Five NATO nations — Britain, Denmark, Belgium, France and the Netherlands —will participate next week end in a radioactive fallout defense exercise, the government announced Tuesday.

Canal Traffic Snarled

SUEZ (UPI)—Northbound Suez Canal traffic was tied up for seven hours Tuesday when the Italian ship Eretteo ran aground just north of the canal's southern entrance. The ship was refloated at midday.

City Appointments Made

Several appointments were approved by the Mayor and Council Monday.

Miss Janet Robertson was named temporary stenographer in the Recreation Department at $170 a month to serve during the leave of absence of Mrs. Helen Carroll Leo. The appointment was effective Monday. Miss Robertson is not on the eligible list for appointment but Recreation Director Eugene Mason said one of the two on the list was not interested and the other had another job, he understood. He recommended Miss Robertson after interviewing six or eight candidates sent him by the state employment office and Catherman's business school, Mason said. The Civil Service Commission will be asked to provide an eligible list.

Council also named Miss Nancy Maureen Cavanaugh as temporary switchboard operator at City Hall at a salary of $165 a month. She will serve until an eligible list is provided.

Mrs. Marguerite Findlay was placed on the payroll as supervisor of city parks at $163 a month. The appointment is effective April 1 and continues until December 31.

Council approved an agreement with Warren R. Mullenax, operator of Municipal Airport, for maintenance. It was agreed to continue Charles F. Heller as superintendent of maintenance at $200 a month with the city crediting his salary and assessments against monthly and bonus rentals charged Mullenax.

County Briefed On How To Get Surplus Items

The commissioners of Allegany, Garrett, Washington and Frederick counties were informed Monday in Washington their units may obtain surplus federal equipment without cost under certain circumstances.

The commissioners were guests of Rep. John R Foley at a luncheon in the dining room of the speaker of the House of Representatives.

William J. Hudson, assistant chief of the property sales assistance division of the Small Business Administration, explained the program after Rep. Foley stated a request for such equipment had been made by the Board of Allegany County Commissioners.

Hudson said most of the material available is the property of the Department of Defense. He said lists of available equipment may be obtained from the state surplus property director.

Equipment may be obtained without charge if uses can be shown for educational, health or Civil Defense purposes.

John J. Rowan, president of the Allegany board, said the county needs two heavy trucks, a bulldozer and a compressor to improve county roads for the purpose of transporting children to school.

Rowan stated the county could use the equipment immediately to get roads in shape by next fall. The board president said county officials will confer with Ralph R. Webster, school superintendent, and expressed the view: "I am sure we will come up with something."

Hudson suggested that board members also contact health and Civil Defense officials relative to their needs.

Also representing Allegany County at the meeting was Commissioner William A. Wilson. Commissioner John Tucker Mason was unable to attend.

Attending from Garrett County were Board President Carl A. Schell, vice President Fred B. Glotfelty, member E. B. Garletts, and Assistant Supervisor of Roads Paul W. DeWitt.

Committee Ready For Mibs Event

The Youth Committee of the Cumberland Lions Club will be sponsor of the City Marbles Championships to be staged here next month.

Recreation Director C. Eugene Mason said Rev. A. C. Prevatte is chairman of the Lions Committee and is cooperating in the Recreation Department venture.

The Lions Club will award T-shirts to champions of each of the 17 schools which will select representatives for the finals at eliminations rounds May 15. The champion will be determined the week of May 25 with the exact date to be announced later.

Mrs. Eva M. Hogan, assistant recreation director, said several schools have named supervisors for the elimination rounds. They include Edward Geis, Centre Street; Chester See, Virginia Avenue; William Pugh, Columbia Street; Harry Thomas, Gephart; Mrs. Robertine Murray, Mrs. Dorothy Rowe, Mrs. Grace Brady, Mrs. Wilda Willis, John Humbird; John Elliott, Arthur Lloyd, Mt. Royal; David Phillips, West Side; and East Side where each teacher will supervise her own home room.

Other schools will announce supervisors later, Mrs. Hogan said.

In addition to the two recreation officials and Mr. Prevatte's committee, others serving on the advisory group are J. William Hunt, former editor of the Sunday Times and executive committeeman of the National Marbles Tournament who conducted the Times-News tourney here in former years; Robert E. Pence, physical education supervisor for the Allegany County Board of Education; and City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery, a former city marbles champion.

Airport Structure Truss Arrives

A 60-foot long, two-ton center truss for a new building at Municipal Airport was delivered yesterday by Structures, Inc., of Johnstown.

Mayor J. Edwin Keech and City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum witnessed arrival by truck of the equipment at the airport. The new building will replace a structure which burned some months ago.

The two also discussed flood control maintenance with Rex E. Dexter, project engineer for the U. S. Corps of Engineers, and the acceptance ceremony scheduled for Saturday, May 9. They also inspected installation of a new water line in the Constitution Park vicinity.

Yesterday, Mayor Keech and Water Commissioner G. Ray Light visited the Water Department warehouse on Willowbrook Road.

Two Baltimore Women Attacked By Intruders

BALTIMORE (AP) — Two women were attacked early Tuesday, one of them by an intruder who tried to choke her as she slept.

Mrs. Colleen Rose, 33-year-old mother of four children, told police a man entered her room and gagged and choked her as she dozed while caring for a sick child.

She said she fought off the assailant until she was able to pull out the gag in her mouth and scream. The thief climbed out a kitchen window and escaped as her husband, William Rose, rushed down from his second-floor bedroom.

Mrs. Rose said her purse had been ransacked and a loan book on the house stolen.

In another part of the city, Mrs. Henrietta Thompson, 21, was pulled into an alley by a man near her home. She said she screamed and flailed at the attacker who kicked her in the stomach several times.

Mrs. Thompson managed to break away and run home, but the man followed her and grabbed her again near her front door. She said she poked him with an umbrella and the man fled.

Mrs. Thompson, a mother of four, was treated at Provident Hospital for minor injuries.

Pay First Visit

TOKYO (UPI) — Emperor Hirohito and Empress Nagako Tuesday paid their first visit to their new daughter-in-law, Crown princess Michiko. Michiko, daughter of a commoner flour mill executive, was married to Crown Prince Akihito April 10. The Japanese rulers, accompanied by Prince Yoshi and Princess Suga, visited Akihito and his bride at their Togu Palace.

Haney Is Fined, Given Suspended 2-Year Sentence

FREDERICK (AP) — James P. Haney, 68-year-old Western Maryland Railway engineer, was fined $500 Tuesday and given a suspended two-year sentence for the fatal shooting of a fellow worker.

Judge Patrick M. Schauffner imposed the sentence after studying a report from the State Department of Parole and Probation.

Haney was convicted of manslaughter by the judge April 2 in the fatal shooting of James R. Cuddy Jr., 41, last Nov. 15 at Hagerstown, where both men worked in the railroad yards.

Witnesses testified that the shooting followed an argument over Cuddy's contention that Haney should be retired to make room for younger railroaders.

The trial was moved to Frederick upon motion of state. Originally, Haney was charged with first degree murder but this was reduced to manslaughter by agreement of the state and defense.

Second Workman Dies

TACHIKAWA AIR BASE, Japan (UPI)—A second Japanese workman died Tuesday of injuries suffered in the explosion of a gasoline storage tank at this U. S. Air Force base Monday.

Maryland Farmers Get Assist From Weather

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Recent rain and snow followed by warm, clear weather proved beneficial to crops and grains in Maryland and Delaware, the Crop Reporting Service said Tuesday.

Plowing and seeding of croplands continued at a good pace last week, but bugs began to put in their appearance.

The service was advised that pea aphids were prevalent in Dorchester County, while the alfalfa weevil was showing up in sections from Cecil southward to Somerset County.

Peaches came into blossom in the Hancock area last week. The earliest apple bloom is expected this weekend with full blossoms due about the middle of next week.

The USSR Today

Invisible Barrier Remains In Moscow

By HAROLD K. MILKS
Associated Press Staff Writer

What is it like to live in the Soviet Union on the eve of the battle for West Berlin?

I found it little, if any, different from living there at any time since 1956. The Soviet people are still just as friendly, individually, and just as hostile collectively, to an American as they have been since that time.

Soviet officials have perhaps tightened their controls, become even more noncooperative and harassing than before. But in day-to-day living—aside from professional difficulties involving the "tough" policy of Soviet officialdom—there has been little change.

During nearly three years in the Soviet Union I never received the slightest insult nor felt the danger of physical attack—aside from the two times Soviet crowds staged well-organized and directed "spontaneous attacks" on the American Embassy.

But at no time during that period was there much break in the invisible barrier which separates non-Communist foreigners from the Soviet people.

Soon after my arrival I met and invited to dinner a Soviet journalist. He accepted and showed up with his English-speaking wife. But they never came back, and I learned later that his job was 10 per cent journalism and 90 per cent working for the secret police.

Aside from that invisible barrier—reinforced by the official warning to foreigners that too much contact with Soviet citizens can mean expulsion—life in Moscow differed little from life in other capitals abroad.

Taxi drivers, some talkative, some reserved, were invariably polite to foreigners. Restaurant waiters were the same as in any other country—and just as willing to be tipped. Even the militiamen who stood guard around the clock outside the apartment building in which we lived and worked became friendly enough to discuss the weather or results of the latest Soviet football match.

In recent months-dating back roughly to the time Khrushchev challenged the West to "free" West Berlin—official contacts in Moscow tightened. Representatives of the Foreign Office press department, who control all correspondents in the Soviet Union, became more chillingly correct.

There were fewer smiles and more long-winded lectures on objectivity in every meeting with such officials. Most connected the chill with Khrushchev's obvious campaign to keep the West off balance any way he could.

Members of the Central Telegraph staff did their work just about the same. The Soviet censors, hidden behind the famous green door in the telegraph office, remained equally unpredictable, slicing copy heavily one day, letting it pass almost untouched the next.

It's all part of the cold war, Soviet version.

Western correspondents, as the only non-diplomatic foreigners in Moscow, felt it heavily.

I watched several colleagues fly away after varying times of service in the Soviet capital. Their reacting to stepping past the last police and customs barrier and boarding an airplane for "outside" was unvaryingly one of happy relief.

I was no exception when I left Moscow this month after service there dating back to 1956. As the plane started to roll and we were at last on our way "out" it felt as though a heavy weight had been lifted from the back of my neck.

Commissioners Outline Reasons For Tax Boost

In a statement issued after the setting of the tax rate at $2.22 per $100 assessable basis, an increase of 17 cents, the Allegany County Board of Commissioners outlined some of the problems they encountered and reasons for the tax increase.

The report states:

"The principal increase in the present budget is for school purposes including the payment of construction loans and interest on outstanding bonds.

"There are many items in a budget over which the County Commissioners have no control, the same being due to legislation on both the state and county level, whereby the commissioners must levy for the purposes indicated in the act. Some of the laws are drawn so that in order to obtain funds from state agencies to support local functions it is necessary for the county to appropriate money on a matching basis. In such instances the County Commissioners are faced with the alternative of losing state aid or else appropriate additional sums of money.

"The present Board of County Commissioners intends to make a full study of the local county government, the costs of which like the cost of everyone's household, are subject to inflationary rise. The day is not too far distant when the citizens of the county will be forced to choose between reduced services or increased taxes.

"The tax base upon which the levy is made is $162,000,000, an increase of $4,000,000 over last year. The base is as close as the commissioners could determine to be a firm base consistent with sound fiscal practices.

"Notwithstanding the fact that the increased base would have yielded an additional $82,000 at the current tax rate of $2.05, it was necessary to increase the rate to meet the mounting cost of local government. Estimated expenditures for the fiscal year July 1, 1959 to June 30, 1960 represent an increase of $154,653.68 over the fiscal year 1958-1959. The increased expenses coupled with a sharp reduction in the estimated unexpended balance at the end of the current fiscal year account for the increased rate. The estimated unexpended balance at the end of the current fiscal year is $107,905.56 which is the lowest balance in the last ten years.

"At the end of the fiscal year 1955-56 the balance was $388,769.82; in 1956-57, $481,330.78; in 1957-58, $562,685.60; and in the year 1958-59, $189,056.27. If the unexpended balance for the current fiscal year ending June 30, 1959 had been, comparable with those in the past in all probability a tax increase would not have been necessary because the revenue from that source plus the use of an increased tax base would have been enough to meet the increased expenditures.

"Past administrations have kept the same tax rate over a period of years by the practice of failing to levy on the full tax base available, providing themselves with a cushion and thereby creating large unexpended balance at the end of each year, which balances were applied to the next year's budget.

"The present Board of County Commissioners required preliminary budgets from all departments by January 15, 1959. If the first budget requests had been approved the tax increase would have amounted to 33 cents per hundred instead of 17 cents.

"At the outset it was obvious that the budget practices on a department level were not in accordance with sound accounting methods. For example, in the original budgets one department budget contained only two items: Salaries $48,000, and expenses $20,000, with no breakdown as to the individual items of expense. The department heads were then instructed to submit detailed budgets but the hearings indicated that they had little except recollection to substantiate their claims.

"A revised system of bookkeeping will be instituted on the departmental level before the beginning of the new fiscal year which will facilitate more accurate forecasts in the future and the cost of the new system will pay for itself in the savings effected thereby."

County Home, six at Sylvan Retreat, seven in general offices and about ten county road workers.

In the preparation of the county budget, activities are divided into 17 different departmental budgets. Only three of these budgets are lower in the new fiscal year than they are right now. First of these decreased budgets is classified "other protection" and it is down $600. The item for constables in this budget is lowered $100 to $8,668.64, and for autopsies and deputy medical examiner, a $500 drop to $5,000.

The corrections budget, which includes the jail and Maryland Training Schools for boys and girls, is lowered $2,131 to $39,199. Also reduced is the so-called public service budget, by lopping $120 off the farmers' cooperative agent budget to $10,450.

14 Major Items Increase

Far offsetting these three decreases are the hikes in 14 other major groupings in the budget. The legislative and executive budget is up $1,314.88 to $21,090; the judicial budget advances $3,666.48 to $111,116.60, the election budget is set at $36,043, up $200; the finance budget goes up $6,746.46, the law budget is $5,198.84 as result of a $208.84 increase in salary and expenses for the county attorney, $3,855.24 for more buildings, up to $60,976.64.

Also upped are public safety, up $1,248.40 to $35,143.40; the sheriff, up $533.30 to $6,000; highways, up $45,015.85 to $507,018.82; health, up $8,502.37 to $98,636.06; hospitals, up $9,189.15 to $286,495.33; public welfare, including surplus food distribution, up $24,421.89 to $420,813.23; schools, up $14,524 to $1,918,284, and miscellaneous, up $37,977.82 to $965,326.27. This last item covers retirement funds, workmen's compensation, retirement of indebtedness and interest, group insurance, social security and a contingency fund of $54,075.27.

Steel Strike Not Inevitable

Behind the quizzing by the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly Subcommittee of top figures in steel management and labor lies—aside from any and all political implications—a general public interest in avoiding a steel strike in this year of economic recovery.

Industry-wide three-year contracts expire June 30. Union policy leaders already have been conferring; the Steelworkers' 170-member wage policy committee meets in New York April 30. In the meantime, management accepted, April 15, a union request that face-to-face negotiations be moved up to May 4 to allow more time for peace efforts.

A strike is by no means inevitable. And management is hardly going to lock out the men as inventory orders keep pushing steel production close to capacity. (Whether the rush of orders will abate significantly if a strike is avoided is still in question.) Union leaders learned from the United Auto Workers last year that the traditional no-contract, no-work formula is not an inevitable nor even always a desirable policy.

Primary skirmishes this year have been fought in the headlines. Management called wage rises tied to increased productivity and profits "wholly unacceptable to us." The industry is understandably sensitive to any attempt to use profits as a basis for bargaining on wage rates. By plowing profits back into plant renovation and by good housekeeping, the steel industry has brought way down the rate of operation at which it can still make a profit.

Take U.S. Steel. Standard & Poor's Corp. pointed out recently that whereas the company operated at only 59 per cent of rated capacity in 1958, its profits per share were $5.13. But in the relatively good year, 1957, when the operating rate was 85 per cent of capacity, profits were not proportionately higher, but only $7.33 a share.

Profits for the first half of this year promise to set records. They will make a juicy melon which management would like to keep for itself and the stockholders, and which McDonald would like to slice up rather more energetically.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

American Culture

A press release issued by the Boston Symphony Orchestra contained more interesting news than dozens of stories of Hollywood stars and ladies of the night and those mixtures of fact and fancy familiarly known in this trade as "cheese cake." What the Boston Symphony tells is that during the past decade it has played the works of 31 American composers. This list does not include the thousands of Americans who are writing music for popular purposes. This is highbrow music, the kind that we normally import from Europe.

The Boston Symphony's list of 31 is as follows:

Samuel Barber, Arthur Berger, Easley Blackwood, Ernest Bloch, Aaron Copland, Paul Creston, Henry Cowell, Mabel Daniels, David Diamond, Lukas Foss, Isadore Freed, Alexei Haieff, Roy Harris, Alan Hovhaness, Norman Dello Joio, Peter Mennin, Robert Moevs, Nikolai Nabokov, Walter Piston, Gardner Read, Wallingford Riegger, William Schuman, Roger Sessions, Leo Smit, Howard Swanson, Alexander Tansman, Alexander Tcherepnin, Ernst Toch, Randall Thompson, Virgil Thomson, Bernard Wagenaar.

Some extraordinarily fine music is written for motion pictures and which already has and may to a greater extent become what is called "good music." I was thinking of how much, for instance, the background of Dimitri Tiomkin's music does for a picture. Tiomkin is a modest man and likes to thank Beethoven, Brahms and Tchaikovsky for his works. In the two pictures which brought him Oscars, "High Noon" and "The Old Man and the Sea," Tiomkin's music carries the drama to its climax more powerfully and more perfectly than words possibly can. His is the force of a Greek chorus before which actors speak their words while the machinery of fate carries the action forward to its destiny. In "High Noon" the music at no moment permits the marshal to move from the theme and purpose of the picture which is the moral quality, duty—a quality which in these years seems to have given way before security and safety.

It is not usual for music to be news. It is most often reserved among those esoteric groups who worry about the perfections of conducting or the brilliance of a fiddler. A singing nation may not be a happy nation but it speaks of its joys and sorrows in an idiom that is beautiful and often stirring. Taken all in all, long-hair and short-hair, symphony and rock-n-roll, the cult of Dixieland jazz and the votaries of Bach and Bartok, factions and feudists, this has become a musical nation.

Let us not be too fussy about what kind of music is at a moment popular. Some of the greatest compositions are based on the popular songs of the people which a master can turn into a force to lift a person into the clouds. "76 Trombones" may not have the musical quality of Mendelssohn's Wedding March but both really accomplish the same end; they lift the spirit of the listener who can dream of things to come while the music carries him away from the mundane world in which he ordinarily finds himself.

There will be a return of nationalism in the United States, as nationalism has come to every country except ours. And when it is restored, its firm manifestation may be in music, in every form and art of music because we are a musical people. One need only see what hypnotism Arthur Fiedler can put into Sousa's "The Stars and Stripes Forever."

Take an audience of sophisticated youngsters and dowagers who come to Tanglewood in the Berkshires of a summer night to listen to Mozart and Bach and perhaps a Beethoven or a Brahms. Then comes the evening called Tanglewood on Parade and these sophisticates, who can spend hours quarrelling over a cadenza as played by this one or that one, join in the ecstasy of an evening with the popularizer, Arthur Fiedler. No matter how many encores, no matter what he has played, the end is always "The Stars and Stripes Forever," and the audience stands up and cheers. It happens year after year.

The day may yet come when these concerts are opened with "The Star-Spangled Banner," as in Great Britain they are with "God Save the Queen." Then we shall indeed have discovered what music can do for the morale of a nation.

Chicago Negro, Alabama Opponents Of His Race Team Up To Stop Probe

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Congressman Frank Boykin of Alabama is considered the No. 1 champion of the Ku Klux Klan and the White Citizens Councils in southern Alabama. Gov. John Patterson is considered by many the No. 1 Negro-hater in the State of Alabama. But last week the No. 1 Negro Congressman in Washington, William Dawson, climbed into bed with them to sidetrack a grand jury which was working for clean government in Alabama.

The details of what happened would flabbergast the uninitiated. Here are some of them.

Arthur Perlman, investigator of the Government Operations Committee which Congressman Dawson, Chicago Democrat, heads, had gone to Alabama to investigate a smelly highway situation. Governor Patterson's campaign manager, now finance director, Charles Meriwether, had been charged with trying to increase the appraisal of a piece of federal highway land from $1 to $180,000 in order to pay a political debt to another of the Governor's henchmen, Bill Delaney of Mobile. The federal government would pay 90 per cent of the $180,000; so Uncle Sam, in effect, would be paying off Patterson's friends.

The charge was made officially in the Alabama state legislature by a preacher turned legislator, Charles Trimmier of Mobile.

When Investigator Perlman arrived in Alabama, he was received on Sunday, April 5 at the Governor's Mansion in Montgomery and there questioned Charles Meriwether in the Governor's presence. The cross-examination continued from 4 p. m. to 6 p. m.

Mysterious Phone Call

The key question was whether Meriwether had telephoned Tom Cochran, one of the land appraisers, on February 8 to say that the state would not appeal if Delaney was awarded $180,000 for the dumping of highway muck on his land.

Meriwether flatly denied making the phone call.

Two days later, Perlman was in Mobile and asked Frank Drane, manager of the Admiral Semmes Hotel, for the record of Meriwether's phone calls on February 7 and 8. Drane hesitated, consulted his lawyer, finally produced them. The phone-call records had been tampered with.

"Has anyone asked to see this record?" the congressional investigator asked.

Drane huddled with his attorney.

"Yes," he finally answered.

"Who?"

"Meriwether."

"When?"

"Sunday night at 8 p. m."

In other words, Meriwether had left the cross-examining session at the Governor's Mansion at 6 p. m. Sunday in Montgomery and flown immediately to Mobile. It is 180 miles from Montgomery to Mobile. Perlman checked all commercial lines and found that Meriwether had not taken a commercial plane.

He must have taken a National Guard plane with, of course, the Governor's approval. Two National Guard planes had been sent to Mobile on the day of preacher-legislator Trimmier's charges in order to get alibing statements.

Yet despite this record brought back to Washington by Chairman Dawson's own investigator, Dawson teamed up with Governor Patterson and Congressman Boykin to sidetrack a Mobile grand jury seeking to ascertain the guilty parties.

After huddling with race-baiter Boykin, the Negro Congressman either sent, or authorized to be sent, a telegram direct to the grand jury stating: "There is not a scintilla of evidence in the land case. We washed our hands of this case on the floor of the House yesterday."

Defending A Lady

Sen. Mike Mansfield, the gallant gael from Montana, has gone to bat for glamor Ambassadress Clare Boothe Luce, with the statement that she was a great success as envoy to Italy.

Mike is only 50 per cent right. Mrs. Luce was a success during the last two years of her term. She committed tragic errors during the first two years. She was probably even responsible for losing the slender margin by which the Christian Democrats held Parliament against the Communists and Fascists. Here are Clare's two most grievous errors:

1.: On May 28, 1953, during the Italian elections, the Ambassadress made a speech in Milan hinting that if Italy did not line up with middle-of-the-road parties "grave consequences" might follow. This was interpreted as a threat U.S. aid would be cut off, and pro-West newspapers treated the speech as if it would explode in their face. Premier de Gasperi flinched. The Communist press howled.

Mrs. Luce's advisers had urged her not to make the speech. She not only made it, but repeated it May 29, in Genoa.

Ten days later de Gasperi lost his margin in the Italian Parliament. Many observers felt Mrs. Luce's speech had tipped the scale against him.

2. Mrs. Luce was so much opposed to the election of President Gronchi that he almost asked for her recall. Had she been a male, he probably would have done so. She was so upset when his election was announced in Parliament that she left the diplomatic gallery in tears.

During her last two years Mrs. Luce did a fine job. But one fumble in the first inning can sometimes lose a ball game, and Mrs. Luce's fumble in Milan may have lost the Italian elections. Now she wants a new job—ambassador to Brazil.

Sec. Herter Makes His Intentions Clear

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON, April 21—Christian A. Herter, the new Secretary of State, intends to follow the policies of his predecessor, John Foster Dulles. He said so plainly at Augusta, Georgia, last Saturday when his appointment was announced. But, due to one of those curious accidents that sometimes happen in handling news events, this particular statement wasn't reported in the press and was given only over television twenty-four hours later.

Just after President Eisenhower had announced the selection of Mr. Herter on Saturday last, the newsmen interviewed Mr. Herter at considerable length. Here is an important section of the stenographic transcript of the interview on which most of the news dispatches cabled around the world on that day were based:

"Q. Mr. Secretary, do you foresee any changes in our foreign policy as a result of your taking over —

"A. I will tell you. I am not going to go into detail on our foreign policy at this time. There will be time enough, if and when I am confirmed, to be talking about that."

This was widely regarded as somewhat of an evasive answer. In fact, The New York Times, in an editorial in its Monday morning issue, said:

"When Mr. Herter met the press at Augusta, Ga., last Saturday, he dodged a question about changes in our foreign policy by the judicious remark that 'There will be time enough, if and when I am confirmed, to be talking about that.' . . .

"Our foreign policy will be essentially what it has been since 1953. Mr. Dulles made most of it, and there are no signs that Mr. Herter wishes to unmake any of it."

The editorial made the right inference. The first edition of the "Times" was on the presses when corroboration came in the 11 p. m. TV newscast Sunday night. Mr. Herter was shown on the screen as he answered questions from reporters as follows:

"Q. I wonder if there is anything you can tell us about any possible changes in foreign policy.

"Mr. Herter: No, I won't go into the question of foreign policy at the present time, but I think you can assume from the fact that I have been a member of the team for some time that the team policies will continue."

Evidently the reporters had gone away from the scene on Saturday to write their dispatches and didn't wait to watch the newsreel men with their cameras. But the television audiences of at least two different networks on Sunday night saw and heard Mr. Herter as he uttered the above reply.

Such accidents occur every now and then in news reporting. Ordinarily what is said before the newsreel and TV cameras and what had been said previously in conference with the reporters for the printed page do not differ very much. This happens to be a significant difference, and it is especially worth noting because there have been hints heretofore that Mr. Herter might change substantially the policies pursued by Mr. Dulles in the past.

It will be observed that Mr. Herter spoke of having been "a member of the team for some time" and added that "the team policies will continue." The use of the word "team" may be news to many readers who have been led to believe that there was no "team" in the State Department under Mr. Dulles and that it was just a "one-man operation," as so frequently mentioned by critics of his policies.

While the new Secretary of State means to carry on the policies of Mr. Dulles, it would be natural, of course, to expect his manner and method of conducting negotiations to be different. Mr. Herter, for instance, may travel less and depend more on our ambassadors abroad. After all, in diplomacy there is as much individuality as in any other official endeavor.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

Man, in his struggle up from the abyss of ignorance, has through the ages gradually mastered the three primary sources of power available to him—heat, water and wind. Utilizing and ingeniously improvising, he has raised himself above the apes and into that marvel of history—the machine age.

But, as he raised his head and began to look around him he became aware of other mightier sources of power and energy which he only dimly sensed and comprehended not at all. Then came a great leap forward, the harnessing of the power in the atom.

But even in his efforts to utilize this new-found source of energy for peaceful purposes, man had to convert this power to heat and then convert the heat energy into use through conventional machines, the electric dynamo.

The other day a government announcement revealed something that one day may be hailed as an accomplishment on a par with discovery of the power in electricity, or steam. Atomic Energy Commission scientists had found a way to create electricity directly from atomic energy.

Understandably, in the context of our times, the uses of this new form of energy were coupled with interplanetary travel. But this is a narrow interpretation of its true significance. Man may well be standing on the threshold of harnessing the infinite powers of the universe.

Washington is experiencing a record-breaking influx of spring tourists, and hotel space is about as hard to find as Republicans.

The Easter holidays, coinciding with the blossoming of the famed Japanese cherry trees, resulted in a land-office business for hotels, motels, restaurants, souvenir sellers and sight-seeing buses.

Along with adult tourists, the capital was inundated with many, many busloads of high school seniors from all over the east, south and midwest. They have been unusually well-behaved this year, so far, and notable for an absence of shenanigans sufficiently outrageous as to warrant newspaper stories.

A spring vacation in Washington obviously is growing in popularity. This year, although Congress was in Easter recess, large throngs were herded through the Capitol by experienced guides who pointed out the rooms, statuary and art of interest.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

He said he'd give the kid a tow and they hooked up the water skiis and the man opened the throttle. The fifty horses yanked the kid up out of the Delaware and he rode the gold spangles like a laughing god. He flew upstream in an apostrophe of foam and then, dead ahead, the man saw the big rusty pipe sticking out of the water.

He swung hard left. The boat stood on its beam. The man fell out and he grabbed the gunwale and hung on. The boy fell off the skiis. The man was dragged in swift circles. When he let go, he swung under the stern and the propellor, turning at 4,000 revolutions per minute, sawed him across the waist. He did not scream. He just disappeared.

At almost the same time, less than a hundred miles away, a boy in an outboard skimmed across Upper Greenwood Lake. He was moving pretty well and he waved to some girls on the beach. He did not see the rented boat coming across his path from the right. The boy's boat climbed across the other one.

In it was a mother and four children. It was surprising that all except the 7-year-old girl got to shore. They had to drag for her body.

Boating is now a major sport in the United States. There are 7,330,000 of them, from big steam yachts down to 7-foot prams. Most of the pilots on the seas and rivers and lakes are careful and considerate. But, if only one per cent of them are reckless, then we are faced with 73,300 potential killers.

Most of the five million small outboard boats do not require state licenses. At least half of these are run by teen-agers. Of these, at least 25 per cent are too young to get automobile licenses. In the exuberance of extreme youth, all they ask of a boat is speed. The fact that they are not required to get licenses is like saying that certain guns do not need licensing because the bullet they fire is small.

Many who operate rented boats are the worst offenders. Men unqualified to pilot a toy sailboat in a bathtub go out loaded with bait, burgers and booze. The more they drink, the braver they become. People who own a boat, and fathers who study the rules of piloting and safety, get in the habit of staying home on weekends. The water is dangerous at that time.

The nation spent more than two billion dollars on boating last year. There are 357,000 small boats in California: 407,000 in Michigan; 514,000 in New York. Wyoming and Nevada have low totals — 7,000 apiece. My state, New Jersey, has 169,000.

Here, the waters are under the jurisdiction of a dynamic man named Salvatore A. Bontempo, who is Commissioner of the Department of Conservation and Economic Development. He is not a boating expert, but he is worried because his state had 13 fatal accidents on water last year and he moves fast to cut the toll.

The Chief of the Bureau of Navigation is the active head of tidal and non-tidal waters. He is Peter J. Gannon of Manasquan. He is so fearful of accidents that he has appointed 270 harbor masters, with books of summonses, to patrol the waterways.

Under him is State Trooper Sergeant Eugene Olaff, a handsome crewcut who is in charge of Marine Law Enforcement. These are all family men. They wince when they think about the little girl at the bottom of the lake.

What can they do with a pilot who causes accidents? He doesn't need a pilot's license. He takes no road tests; he studies nothing of safety on the water. All he has to know is how to gas her up and open the throttle.

The State of California is more progressive. There, all boats, no matter how small or large, must be registered annually. The next step is to license all pilots, as all automobile drivers are licensed. It will come.

I'm a Harbor Master. All summer long, I chase the mad malefactors. I've never given out a summons. Just a roar of rage now and then . . .

Scientists Find Fear Of Cancer Deep-Rooted

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Health educational campaigns have yielded good results in many areas of disease, especially tuberculosis and polio. But when it comes to cancer, fear of the disease seems to create an emotional block. Too many persons who suspect the disorder prefer to bury their heads in the sand so they won't hear the truth.

A recent Canadian survey bears out this contention. A group of Montreal physicians went to a rural community in Quebec, which they named Sampletown. They interviewed 248 adults, asking such questions as: What are the early signs of cancer? Why do so many people resist going to a physician when they have suggestive symptoms? Does a diagnosis of malignancy mean a death sentence? Can you describe the emblem of the Canadian Cancer society?

Only two individuals could name all seven officially adopted and widely publicized "danger signs." Forty were able to give three or more; one-third knew one to two symptoms; and one-fourth could not name any.

Women were more aware of lumps in the breast; men, of persistent indigestion. Lumps, sores, moles, and bleeding headed the list. The least mentioned manifestations were persistent hoarseness, cough, and change in normal bowel habits.

On why men and women delayed consulting a physician when symptoms appeared, one out of four said they feared learning the truth. Eight per cent were afraid of physicians and 3 per cent feared surgery. Some of the women mentioned embarrassment at being examined. Only one person in 78 could describe the society's emblem accurately.

After a local educational campaign lasting six weeks, the inhabitants were questioned again but the results were disappointing, considering the amount of time, money, and skill employed in the project. Only a few remembered an additional symptom or two. Fifteen per cent still believed the outlook in cancer was hopeless. Five more were able to describe the emblem, which had been displayed prominently during the campaign.

The investigators concluded that fear of cancer was so deeply ingrained, the campaign met with passive resistance, which denoted a need to ward off anxiety. They are of the opinion that propaganda based on curability through early treatment would be more successful.

TOMORROW: Nervous symptoms difficult to cure.

EYELID SPASM

C. L. A. writes: What is blepharospasm?

REPLY

Spasm or twitching of the eyelids. It may stem from a local disturbance such as inflammation, poor vision, or muscle imbalance. It also develops in persons who are fatigued or toxic from over-indulgence in coffee, tea, or tobacco. A more common cause is irritation from a speck of dirt.

WHAT—NONE?

J. S. writes: How many eggs can a man with no blood pressure have for breakfast?

REPLY

A man with no blood pressure can't even cackle. Many persons with low or normal blood pressure eat one or two eggs every morning. From this standpoint, the answer depends upon the blood cholesterol level.

WANTS TO DONATE

G.P.M. writes: I have given quite a bit of blood to Red Cross but when I went to donate the last time, and mentioned that I have a chronic ulcer, they turned me down. What should I do about this?

REPLY

Why not concentrate on your ulcer? When it is healed, get a statement from your physician to give to the Red Cross if you still want to donate blood.

TIRED TOT

Mrs. K. writes: What makes a child with rheumatic fever so tired?

REPLY

The toxic effects of the disease on the body. Send a stamped, self addressed envelope for our leaflet on rheumatic fever.

SWEET TALK

A. L. J. writes: Why is honey supposed to be good for a sore throat?

REPLY

Grandma recommended this treatment because in that era there was little else to offer.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

It's hard to believe — but director Josh Logan swears Mary Martin was a bundle of nerves before her London opening in "South Pacific" — despite the fact she had won cheers from audiences for over three years in the same role in New York. To reassure her, Logan recited these lines by William Lake:

"He who doubts from what he sees
Will ne'er believe, do what you please.
If the sun and moon should doubt,
They'd immediately go out."

Miss Martin's fears, of course, proved groundless. The very rafters rang with applause from the ecstatic London audience.

That Christmas, Mary Martin sent Logan a pillow with the Blake poem emblazoned thereon. She had spent hours in her dressing room embroidering it for him.

Steel Strike Not Inevitable

Behind the quizzing by the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly Subcommittee of top figures in steel management and labor lies—aside from any and all political implications—a general public interest in avoiding a steel strike in this year of economic recovery.

Industry-wide three-year contracts expire June 30. Union policy leaders already have been conferring; the Steelworkers' 170-member wage policy committee meets in New York April 30. In the meantime, management accepted, April 15, a union request that face-to-face negotiations be moved up to May 4 to allow more time for peace efforts.

A strike is by no means inevitable. And management is hardly going to lock out the men as inventory orders keep pushing steel production close to capacity. (Whether the rush of orders will abate significantly if a strike is avoided is still in question.) Union leaders learned from the United Auto Workers last year that the traditional no-contract, no-work formula is not an inevitable nor even always a desirable policy.

Primary skirmishes this year have been fought in the headlines. Management called wage rises tied to increased productivity and profits "wholly unacceptable to us." The industry is understandably sensitive to any attempt to use profits as a basis for bargaining on wage rates. By plowing profits back into plant renovation and by good housekeeping, the steel industry has brought way down the rate of operation at which it can still make a profit.

Take U.S. Steel. Standard & Poor's Corp. pointed out recently that whereas the company operated at only 59 per cent of rated capacity in 1958, its profits per share were $5.13. But in the relatively good year, 1957, when the operating rate was 85 per cent of capacity, profits were not proportionately higher, but only $7.33 a share.

Profits for the first half of this year promise to set records. They will make a juicy melon which management would like to keep for itself and the stockholders, and which McDonald would like to slice up rather more energetically.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

American Culture

A press release issued by the Boston Symphony Orchestra contained more interesting news than dozens of stories of Hollywood stars and ladies of the night and those mixtures of fact and fancy familiarly known in this trade as "cheese cake." What the Boston Symphony tells is that during the past decade it has played the works of 31 American composers. This list does not include the thousands of Americans who are writing music for popular purposes. This is highbrow music, the kind that we normally import from Europe.

The Boston Symphony's list of 31 is as follows:

Samuel Barber, Arthur Berger, Easley Blackwood, Ernest Bloch, Aaron Copland, Paul Creston, Henry Cowell, Mabel Daniels, David Diamond, Lukas Foss, Isadore Freed, Alexei Haieff, Roy Harris, Alan Hovhaness, Norman Dello Joio, Peter Mennin, Robert Moevs, Nikolai Nabokov, Walter Piston, Gardner Read, Wallingford Riegger, William Schuman, Roger Sessions, Leo Smit, Howard Swanson, Alexander Tansman, Alexander Tcherepnin, Ernst Toch, Randall Thompson, Virgil Thomson, Bernard Wagenaar.

Some extraordinarily fine music is written for motion pictures and which already has and may to a greater extent become what is called "good music." I was thinking of how much, for instance, the background of Dimitri Tiomkin's music does for a picture. Tiomkin is a modest man and likes to thank Beethoven, Brahms and Tchaikovsky for his works. In the two pictures which brought him Oscars, "High Noon" and "The Old Man and the Sea," Tiomkin's music carries the drama to its climax more powerfully and more perfectly than words possibly can. His is the force of a Greek chorus before which actors speak their words while the machinery of fate carries the action forward to its destiny. In "High Noon" the music at no moment permits the marshal to move from the theme and purpose of the picture which is the moral quality, duty—a quality which in these years seems to have given way before security and safety.

It is not usual for music to be news. It is most often reserved among those esoteric groups who worry about the perfections of conducting or the brilliance of a fiddler. A singing nation may not be a happy nation but it speaks of its joys and sorrows in an idiom that is beautiful and often stirring. Taken all in all, long-hair and short-hair, symphony and rock-n-roll, the cult of Dixieland jazz and the votaries of Bach and Bartok, factions and feudists, this has become a musical nation.

Let us not be too fussy about what kind of music is at a moment popular. Some of the greatest compositions are based on the popular songs of the people which a master can turn into a force to lift a person into the clouds. "76 Trombones" may not have the musical quality of Mendelssohn's Wedding March but both really accomplish the same end: they lift the spirit of the listener who can dream of things to come while the music carries him away from the mundane world in which he ordinarily finds himself.

There will be a return of nationalism in the United States, as nationalism has come to every country except ours. And when it is restored, its firm manifestation may be in music, in every form and art of music because we are a musical people. One need only see what hypnotism Arthur Fiedler can put into Sousa's "The Stars and Stripes Forever."

Take an audience of sophisticated youngsters and dowagers who come to Tanglewood in the Berkshires of a summer night to listen to Mozart and Bach and perhaps a Beethoven or a Brahms. Then comes the evening called Tanglewood on Parade and these sophisticates, who can spend hours quarrelling over a cadenza as played by this one or that one, join in the ecstasy of an evening with the popularizer, Arthur Fiedler. No matter how many encores, no matter what he has played, the end is always "The Stars and Stripes Forever," and the audience stands up and cheers. It happens year after year.

The day may yet come when these concerts are opened with "The Star-Spangled Banner," as in Great Britain they are with "God Save the Queen." Then we shall indeed have discovered what music can do for the morale of a nation.

Chicago Negro, Alabama Opponents Of His Race Team Up To Stop Probe

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Congressman Frank Boykin of Alabama is considered the No. 1 champion of the Ku Klux Klan and the White Citizens Councils in southern Alabama. Gov. John Patterson is considered by many the No. 1 Negro-hater in the State of Alabama. But last week the No. 1 Negro Congressman in Washington, William Dawson, climbed into bed with them to sidetrack a grand jury which was working for clean government in Alabama.

The details of what happened would flabbergast the uninitiated. Here are some of them.

Arthur Perlman, investigator of the Government Operations Committee which Congressman Dawson, Chicago Democrat, heads, had gone to Alabama to investigate a smelly highway situation. Governor Patterson's campaign manager, now finance director, Charles Meriwether, had been charged with trying to increase the appraisal of a piece of federal highway land from $1 to $180,000 in order to pay a political debt to another of the Governor's henchmen, Bill Delaney of Mobile. This happens to be a significant difference, and it is especially worth noting because there have been hints heretofore that Mr. Herter might change substantially the policies pursued by Mr. Dulles in the past.

It will be observed that Mr. Herter spoke of having been "a member of the team for some time" and added that "the team policies will continue." The use of the word "team" may be news to many readers who have been led to believe that there was no "team" in the State Department under Mr. Dulles and that it was just a "one-man operation," as so frequently mentioned by critics of his policies.

While the new Secretary of State means to carry on the policies of Mr. Dulles, it would be natural, of course, to expect his manner and method of conducting negotiations to be different. Mr. Herter, for instance, may travel less and depend more on our ambassadors abroad. After all, in diplomacy there is as much individuality as in any other official endeavor.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

Man, in his struggle up from the abyss of ignorance, has through the ages gradually mastered the three primary sources of power available to him—heat, water and wind. Utilizing and ingeniously improvising, he has raised himself above the apes and into that marvel of history—the machine age.

But, as he raised his head and began to look around him he became aware of other mightier sources of power and energy which he only dimly sensed and comprehended not at all. Then came a great leap forward, the harnessing of the power in the atom.

But even in his efforts to utilize this new-found source of energy for peaceful purposes, man had to convert this power to heat and then convert the heat energy into use through conventional machines, the electric dynamo.

The other day a government announcement revealed something that one day may be hailed as an accomplishment on a par with discovery of the power in electricity, or steam. Atomic Energy Commission scientists had found a way to create electricity directly from atomic energy.

Understandably, in the context of our times, the uses of this new form of energy were coupled with interplanetary travel. But this is a narrow interpretation of its true significance. Man may well be standing on the threshold of harnessing the infinite powers of the universe.

Washington is experiencing a record-breaking influx of spring tourists, and hotel space is about as hard to find as Republicans.

The Easter holidays, coinciding with the blossoming of the famed Japanese cherry trees, resulted in a land-office business for hotels, motels, restaurants, souvenir sellers and sight-seeing buses.

Along with adult tourists, the capital was inundated with many, many busloads of high school seniors from all over the east, south and midwest. They have been unusually well-behaved this year, so far, and notable for an absence of shenanigans sufficiently outrageous as to warrant newspaper stories.

A spring vacation in Washington obviously is growing in popularity. This year, although Congress was in Easter recess, large throngs were herded through the Capitol by experienced guides who pointed out the rooms, statuary and art of interest.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

He said he'd give the kid a tow and they hooked up the water skiis and the man opened the throttle. The fifty horses yanked the kid up out of the Delaware and he rode the gold spangles like a laughing god. He flew upstream in an apostrophe of foam and then, dead ahead, the man saw the big rusty pipe sticking out of the water.

He swung hard left. The boat stood on its beam. The man fell out and he grabbed the gunwale and hung on. The boy fell off the skiis. The man was dragged in swift circles. When he let go, he swung under the stern and the propellor, turning at 4,000 revolutions per minute, sawed him across the waist. He did not scream. He just disappeared.

At almost the same time, less than a hundred miles away, a boy in an outboard skimmed across Upper Greenwood Lake. He was moving pretty well and he waved to some girls on the beach. He did not see the rented boat coming across his path from the right. The boy's boat climbed across the other one.

In it was a mother and four children. It was surprising that all except the 7-year-old girl got to shore. They had to drag for her body.

Boating is now a major sport in the United States. There are 7,330,000 of them, from big steam yachts down to 7-foot prams. Most of the pilots on the seas and rivers and lakes are careful and considerate. But, if only one per cent of them are reckless, then we are faced with 73,300 potential killers.

Most of the five million small outboard boats do not require state licenses. At least half of these are run by teen-agers. Of these, at least 25 per cent are too young to get automobile licenses. In the exuberance of extreme youth, all they ask of a boat is speed. The fact that they are not required to get licenses is like saying that certain guns do not need licensing because the bullet they fire is small.

Many who operate rented boats are the worst offenders. Men unqualified to pilot a toy sailboat in a bathtub go out loaded with bait, burgers and booze. The more they drink, the braver they become. People who own a boat, and fathers who study the rules of piloting and safety, get in the habit of staying home on weekends. The water is dangerous at that time.

The nation spent more than two billion dollars on boating last year. There are 357,000 small boats in California: 407,000 in Michigan; 514,000 in New York. Wyoming and Nevada have low totals — 7,000 apiece. My state, New Jersey, has 169,000.

Here, the waters are under the jurisdiction of a dynamic man named Salvatore A. Bontempo, who is Commissioner of the Department of Conservation and Economic Development. He is not a boating expert, but he is worried because his state had 13 fatal accidents on water last year and he moves fast to cut the toll.

The Chief of the Bureau of Navigation is the active head of tidal and non-tidal waters. He is Peter J. Gannon of Manasquan. He is so fearful of accidents that he has appointed 270 harbor masters, with books of summonses, to patrol the waterways.

Under him is State Trooper Sergeant Eugene Olaff, a handsome crewcut who is in charge of Marine Law Enforcement. These are all family men. They wince when they think about the little girl at the bottom of the lake.

What can they do with a pilot who causes accidents? He doesn't need a pilot's license. He takes no road tests; he studies nothing of safety on the water. All he has to know is how to gas her up and open the throttle.

The State of California is more progressive. There, all boats, no matter how small or large, must be registered annually. The next step is to license all pilots, as all automobile drivers are licensed. It will come.

I'm a Harbor Master. All summer long, I chase the mad malefactors. I've never given out a summons. Just a roar of rage now and then . . .

Scientists Find Fear Of Cancer Deep-Rooted

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Health educational campaigns have yielded good results in many areas of disease, especially tuberculosis and polio. But when it comes to cancer, fear of the disease seems to create an emotional block. Too many persons who suspect the disorder prefer to bury their heads in the sand so they won't hear the truth.

A recent Canadian survey bears out this contention. A group of Montreal physicians went to a rural community in Quebec, which they named Sampletown. They interviewed 248 adults, asking such questions as: What are the early signs of cancer? Why do so many people resist going to a physician when they have suggestive symptoms? Does a diagnosis of malignancy mean a death sentence? Can you describe the emblem of the Canadian Cancer society?

Only two individuals could name all seven officially adopted and widely publicized "danger signs." Forty were able to give three or more; one-third knew one to two symptoms; and one-fourth could not name any.

Women were more aware of lumps in the breast; men, of persistent indigestion. Lumps, sores, moles, and bleeding headed the list. The least mentioned manifestations were persistent hoarseness, cough, and change in normal bowel habits.

On why men and women delayed consulting a physician when symptoms appeared, one out of four said they feared learning the truth. Eight per cent were afraid of physicians and 3 per cent feared surgery. Some of the women mentioned embarrassment at being examined. Only one person in 78 could describe the society's emblem accurately.

After a local educational campaign lasting six weeks, the inhabitants were questioned again but the results were disappointing, considering the amount of time, money, and skill employed in the project. Only a few remembered an additional symptom or two. Fifteen per cent still believed the outlook in cancer was hopeless. Five more were able to describe the emblem, which had been displayed prominently during the campaign.

The investigators concluded that fear of cancer was so deeply ingrained, the campaign met with passive resistance, which denoted a need to ward off anxiety. They are of the opinion that propaganda based on curability through early treatment would be more successful.

TOMORROW: Nervous symptoms difficult to cure.

EYELID SPASM

C. L. A. writes: What is blepharospasm?

REPLY

Spasm or twitching of the eyelids. It may stem from a local disturbance such as inflammation, poor vision, or muscle imbalance. It also develops in persons who are fatigued or toxic from over-indulgence in coffee, tea, or tobacco. A more common cause is irritation from a speck of dirt.

WHAT—NONE?

J. S. writes: How many eggs can a man with no blood pressure have for breakfast?

REPLY

A man with no blood pressure can't even cackle. Many persons with low or normal blood pressure eat one or two eggs every morning. From this standpoint, the answer depends upon the blood cholesterol level.

WANTS TO DONATE

G.P.M. writes: I have given quite a bit of blood to Red Cross but when I went to donate the last time, and mentioned that I have a chronic ulcer, they turned me down. What should I do about this?

REPLY

Why not concentrate on your ulcer? When it is healed, get a statement from your physician to give to the Red Cross if you still want to donate blood.

TIRED TOT

Mrs. K. writes: What makes a child with rheumatic fever so tired?

The toxic effects of the disease on the body. Send a stamped, self addressed envelope for our leaflet on rheumatic fever.

SWEET TALK

A. L. J. writes: Why is honey supposed to be good for a sore throat?

REPLY

Grandma recommended this treatment because in that era there was little else to offer.

Try And Stop Me

It's hard to believe — but director Josh Logan swears Mary Martin was a bundle of nerves before her London opening in "South Pacific" — despite the fact she had won cheers from audiences for over three years in the same role in New York. To reassure her, Logan recited these lines by William Lake:

"He who doubts from what he sees
Will ne'er believe, do what you please.
If the sun and moon should doubt,
They'd immediately go out."

Miss Martin's fears, of course, proved groundless. The very rafters rang with applause from the ecstatic London audience.

That Christmas, Mary Martin sent Logan a pillow with the Blake poem emblazoned thereon. She had spent hours in her dressing room embroidering it for him.

Bahen And Mackert Voted MVP Awards At LaSalle

160 Attend 7th Annual Awards Fete

Letters Presented, Albert DeLuca Is Guest Speaker

By TED TROXELL

Senior athletes Jack Bahen and Mike Mackert received the Most Valuable Player Awards for football and basketball, respectively, at LaSalle High School's seventh annual awards dinner held last night at SS. Peter and Paul Hall.

Letter awards and trophies were also presented to LaSalle students for participation in five different sports, while the cheerleaders and staff members of "The Torch," the school's student publication, were similarly honored at the affair, which was attended by approximately 160 persons.

Dr. Leo H. Ley, physician for LaSalle athletic teams, introduced the coaches of the various teams, who in turn announced the recipients of the awards.

In the absence of George Geatz, head basketball coach who was unable to attend because of his wife's illness, Dick Boyle, cage assistant, presented letters to seven LaSalle players, and announced Mackert, the Explorers' pivotman and second highest scorer during the 1958-59 season, as the winner of Most Valuable Player honors.

Norm Announces Winners

Norman F. Geatz Jr., who stepped down as head football coach after serving in that post for eight years, announced the names of 23 winners of the "L" for football, and then revealed Bahen as having been selected by his teammates as the Explorers' Most Valuable Player during the past grid season. The MVP trophies were presented to Bahen and Mackert by Al Deluca, head football coach at St. Vincent's College, of Latrobe, Pa., who delivered the principal address.

Geatz told the audience that his eight years as football coach were a source of pleasure to him. He assured the LaSalle followers that the job has been placed in capable hands (former assistant Don Harden is the newly appointed head mentor), and asked everyone concerned to give his successor full cooperation.

New Coach Speaks

The new grid coach said he considers his appointment an honor and a pleasure, and added that he will try to uphold the faith placed in him by those who selected him for the job. Harden concluded by saying, "I just hope that I won't let anyone down."

Letters for bowling, rifle team, and baseball were presented by Joe Felten, Jim Miller, and Norm Sell, while Brother Thomas, athletic director, made the presentation of awards to the cheerleaders and "Torch" staff.

Brother Thomas praised all of the honored guests, and paid particular tribute to Bahen, the school's lone three-letter man. The athletic director pointed out that Bahen held down starting positions on the football, basketball, and baseball teams.

DeLuca, a highly entertaining after-dinner orator, spoke the better part of an hour, and received a standing round of applause at the conclusion of his talk, in which he likened the game of football to the "game of life."

DeLuca Praises Football

"Football has many features which can be carried all through life," said DeLuca after prefacing his remarks with a few humorous anecdotes, and then went on to draw analogies which supported his premise.

He remarked that only one man can catch the opening kickoff, but there are ten others on the team who are willing to risk their necks to see that that one individual achieves his objective.

Noting that a player seldom goes all the way for a touchdown on the kickoff, DeLuca explained that each ten yards which a team must pick up for a first down is like a decade in life. "Looking back on each ten years, you realize that it has been a long journey, but still each decade is looked forward to with renewed energy."

Defends Officials

Coming to the defense of the officials in football, DeLuca called this group highly competent, and asserted that they are much more maligned than they ought to be. "If the law enforcement officers in our cities and towns were as vigilant as these officials, there would be much less crime in this country."

Another favorable facet of football, according to DeLuca, is that when a player makes a mistake or is responsible for a penalty against his team, he is pointed out by the official for all to see. However, his teammates also feel this player's chagrin, and rather than criticize him for his mistake, try that much harder to help him overcome his failure. "The world should be like that," declared the speaker.

In closing, the popular college coach offered three words for the athletes to remember: dedication, development, and discipline, and urged them "to go through life with the principles they have been taught by their parents, teachers, and friends."

The meal was prepared and served by members of the LaSalle Mothers Club, which was co-sponsor of the banquet with the Men of LaSalle.

AT LASALLE'S AWARDS DINNER — Michael Mackert was named LaSalle's most valuable player in basketball and Jack Bahen was selected as the school's most valuable player in football at the Explorers' annual Awards Dinner last night at SS. Peter and Paul Hall. Mackert and Bahen are seniors. This is the third year the MVP awards were made. Pictured above, left to right, are: Dr. Leo H. Ley, Jr., toastmaster; Brother G. Paulian, F.S.C., principal of LaSalle; Jack Bahen, football back; Albert DeLuca, football coach at St. Vincent College, Latrobe, Pa., who was the guest speaker; Michael Mackert, center of the basketball team, and Brother Thomas, athletic director. One hundred and sixty persons attended.

Don Black, Former Big Leaguer, Dies

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) —Former Cleveland Indian pitcher Don Black, 41, died at his home in suburban Cuyahoga Falls Tuesday night.

Orioles Win On Triandos' Lofty Homers

Baltimore Whips Boston Sox, 5-2

BOSTON (AP) — Catcher Gus Triandos supplied the entire Baltimore offense Wednesday by smacking two lofty home runs, one of them a grand slam, in the Orioles' 5-2 victory over Boston.

The big receiver ruined Red Sox rookie Jerry Casale's bid for a second straight triumph with a four-run blast into the left field screen in the first inning.

Triandos, a 28 - year - old 215-pounder, skied a bases - empty homer to the foot of the screen in the fifth.

In 9 contests this season, Gus has driven in 14 runs and tagged 4 circuit blows. His 2-for-4 batting performance boosted his average to .357.

Veteran knuckleball artist Hoyt Wilhelm scattered eight Boston singles as the Orioles' junkman but lost his chance for a shutout on his own wildness and Triandos miscues.

Spahn Posts 248th Win Over Cincinnati, 7-4

Henry Aaron Cops Hitting Laurels

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The league leading Milwaukee Braves won their fifth game against a single loss Tuesday, beating Cincinnati 7-4. Henry Aaron's sensational hitting—a single, a double and a triple—helped Warren Spahn to his 248th major league decision.

Vada Pinson, 20-year-old rookie outfielder, matched Aaron's hitting with a similar spree to drive in all the Cincinnati runs.

Aaron's outburst kicked his batting average up to a gaudy .367. Spahn gave up 11 hits during the unsteady middle innings, but steadied in the stretch to coast to his second straight triumph. It was the 51st of the great lefthander's career over the Reds.

Bob Purkey, who had beaten his former Pittsburgh teammates in his first two starts of the season, was the first of four Cincinnati pitchers and took the loss.

Bahen And Mackert Voted MVP Awards At LaSalle

160 Attend 7th Annual Awards Fete

Letters Presented, Albert DeLuca Is Guest Speaker

By TED TROXELL

Senior athletes Jack Bahen and Mike Mackert received the Most Valuable Player Awards for football and basketball, respectively, at LaSalle High School's seventh annual awards dinner held last night at SS. Peter and Paul Hall.

Letter awards and trophies were also presented to LaSalle students for participation in five different sports, while the cheerleaders and staff members of "The Torch," the school's student publication, were similarly honored at the affair, which was attended by approximately 160 persons.

Dr. Leo H. Ley, physician for LaSalle athletic teams, introduced the coaches of the various teams, who in turn announced the recipients of the awards.

In the absence of George Geatz, head basketball coach who was unable to attend because of his wife's illness, Dick Boyle, cage assistant, presented letters to seven LaSalle players, and announced Mackert, the Explorers' pivotman and second highest scorer during the 1958-59 season, as the winner of Most Valuable Player honors.

Norm Announces Winners

Norman F. Geatz Jr., who stepped down as head football coach after serving in that post for eight years, announced the names of 23 winners of the "L" for football, and then revealed Bahen as having been selected by his teammates as the Explorers' Most Valuable Player during the past grid season. The MVP trophies were presented to Bahen and Mackert by Al Deluca, head football coach at St. Vincent's College, of Latrobe, Pa., who delivered the principal address.

Geatz told the audience that his eight years as football coach were a source of pleasure to him. He assured the LaSalle followers that the job has been placed in capable hands (former assistant Don Harden is the newly appointed head mentor), and asked everyone concerned to give his successor full cooperation.

New Coach Speaks

The new grid coach said he considers his appointment an honor and a pleasure, and added that he will try to uphold the faith placed in him by those who selected him for the job. Harden concluded by saying, "I just hope that I won't let anyone down."

Letters for bowling, rifle team, and baseball were presented by Joe Felten, Jim Miller, and Norm Sell, while Brother Thomas, athletic director, made the presentation of awards to the cheerleaders and "Torch" staff.

Brother Thomas praised all of the honored guests, and paid particular tribute to Bahen, the school's lone three-letter man. The athletic director pointed out that Bahen held down starting positions on the football, basketball, and baseball teams.

DeLuca, a highly entertaining after-dinner orator, spoke the better part of an hour, and received a standing round of applause at the conclusion of his talk, in which he likened the game of football to the "game of life."

DeLuca Praises Football

"Football has many features which can be carried all through life," said DeLuca after prefacing his remarks with a few humorous anecdotes, and then went on to draw analogies which supported his premise.

He remarked that only one man can catch the opening kickoff, but there are ten others on the team who are willing to risk their necks to see that that one individual achieves his objective.

Noting that a player seldom goes all the way for a touchdown on the kickoff, DeLuca explained that each ten yards which a team must pick up for a first down is like a decade in life. "Looking back on each ten years, you realize that it has been a long journey, but still each decade is looked forward to with renewed energy."

Defends Officials

Coming to the defense of the officials in football, DeLuca called this group highly competent, and asserted that they are much more maligned than they ought to be. "If the law enforcement officers in our cities and towns were as vigilant as these officials, there would be much less crime in this country."

Another favorable facet of football, according to DeLuca, is that when a player makes a mistake or is responsible for a penalty against his team, he is pointed out by the official for all to see. However, his teammates also feel this player's chagrin, and rather than criticize him for his mistake, try that much harder to help him overcome his failure. "The world should be like that," declared the speaker.

In closing, the popular college coach offered three words for the athletes to remember: dedication, development, and discipline, and urged them "to go through life with the principles they have been taught by their parents, teachers, and friends."

The meal was prepared and served by members of the LaSalle Mothers Club, which was co-sponsor of the banquet with the Men of LaSalle.

Don Black, Former Big Leaguer, Dies

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) —Former Cleveland Indian pitcher Don Black, 41, died at his home in suburban Cuyahoga Falls Tuesday night.

Black, who hurled a no-run, no-hit game in 1947, had been ill for several months.

He was critically injured in an auto accident near Charlottesville, Virginia, in December of 1957. However, he recovered.

Orioles Win On Triandos' Lofty Homers

Baltimore Whips Boston Sox, 5-2

BOSTON (AP) — Catcher Gus Triandos supplied the entire Baltimore offense Wednesday by smacking two lofty home runs, one of them a grand slam, in the Orioles' 5-2 victory over Boston.

The big receiver ruined Red Sox rookie Jerry Casale's bid for a second straight triumph with a four-run blast into the left field screen in the first inning.

Triandos, a 28 - year - old 215-pounder, skied a bases - empty homer to the foot of the screen in the fifth.

In 9 contests this season, Gus has driven in 14 runs and tagged 4 circuit blows. His 2-for-4 batting performance boosted his average to .357.

Veteran knuckleball artist Hoyt Wilhelm scattered eight Boston singles as the Orioles' junkman but lost his chance for a shutout on his own wildness and Triandos miscues.

Bob Grim Scores Over White Sox, 8-3

KANSAS CITY (UPI) — Bob Grim set Chicago down on four hits Tuesday night as the Kansas City Athletics took advantage of hefty hitting by Dick Williams and Frank House and loose fielding by the White Sox to run up an 8-3 victory.

Williams drove in three runs with a single and a double and House went three for four to give Grim his second victory against one loss.

Southpaw Billy Pierce, who went out after two innings when the A's had piled up a 5-0 lead, took his first loss against one win.

The White Sox committed three errors plus two other miscues which don't show in the boxscore.

Henry Aaron Cops Hitting Laurels

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The league leading Milwaukee Braves won their fifth game against a single loss Tuesday, beating Cincinnati 7-4. Henry Aaron's sensational hitting—a single, a double and a triple—helped Warren Spahn to his 248th major league decision.

Vada Pinson, 20-year-old rookie outfielder, matched Aaron's hitting with a similar spree to drive in all the Cincinnati runs.

Aaron's outburst kicked his batting average up to a gaudy .367. Spahn gave up 11 hits during the unsteady middle innings, but steadied in the stretch to coast to his second straight triumph. It was the 51st of the great lefthander's career over the Reds.

Bob Purkey, who had beaten his former Pittsburgh teammates in his first two starts of the season, was the first of four Cincinnati pitchers and took the loss.

Campers' Ronnie Evans Beats Beall On No-Hitter, 4-0

Lauder Stops Sentinels In 5-2 Contest

LaSalle, Mt. Savage Win; Five Schools Tie For 1st Place

Ronnie Evans turned in a no-run, no-hit performance yesterday to give Allegany High School a 4-0 decision over Beall High School in an Allegany County High School Baseball League game staged at Frostburg.

It was the second no-hitter credited to an Allegany High pitcher within a week, Cliff Montgomery having turned the trick against Flintstone on Friday, April 17 by the score of 21-0.

Coach Chester Payne's Campers obtained only two hits from the offerings three Beall pitchers—singles by Mike McKenzie in the fourth and Ansel Shircliffe in the seventh.

The Campers handed Beall its first loss of the campaign by scoring two runs in the fourth frame and a like number in the fifth.

Ronnie Evans yielded one base on balls and struck out nine. Jim Evans, the first of three Beall hurlers, was charged with the loss.

Announcement was made last night that Beall played the game under protest from the fifth inning on a ruling by the umpire which enabled a player to take three bases on an overthrow. Allegany scored two runs in the inning before the protest was lodged.

In other games staged yesterday, Valley High School handed Fort Hill its initial league setback at Barton by the score of 5-2, LaSalle's Explorers crushed Bruce High at Westernport, 16-7, and the Mt. Savage Indians trimmed the Aggies at Flintstone to the tune of 10-2.

Five Tied For Lead

As a result of yesterday's action five teams are now tied for first place, namely, Allegany, Fort Hill, Beall, LaSalle and Mt. Savage, with 2-1 records.

George Lauder scattered five hits, fanned seven and pilfered three hassocks as Coach John C. Meyers' Black Knights downed the Sentinels. Roger Wilson batted in two runs with a double and triple for Valley and Clarence Kean garnered two of Fort Hill's five safeties. Lauder, who beat Fort Hill in a 1-0 no-hitter last season, blanked the Sentinels until the final inning of yesterday's contest.

LaSalle Gets 15 Hits

Coach Norm Sell's LaSalle swatsmiths hammered the offerings of three pitchers for 15 blows to rout the Bulldogs at Westernport.

Lennox headed the assault with five hits in as many trips, including a two-bagger and home run. Brode obtained a pair of two-baggers and single and Spear larruped a triple and double.

Charles Rice hurled the first six frames for the Explorers and notched his second win of the campaign. Hinds came on to pitch the final frame. Ronnie Broadwater and Dick Wilson obtained four of the eight safeties credited to Bruce.

Score Seven In First

Mt. Savage High School scored seven runs in the first inning and added three more in the fifth to trounce Flintstone.

Collier and Smith, who followed him to the mound in the first inning, failed to get a man out and Reed Clingerman, Flintstone's third hurler, pitched seven complete frames.

Faulkner and D. Lowery sparked the Mt. Savage attack with three hits each.

Tom Carter went the route for the Indians and turned back the Aggies with four singles. Carter fanned ten as did Clingerman of Flintstone. Collier was charged with the loss.

Court Approves Deal For Stadium

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The California Supreme Court Tuesday again affirmed the deal between Los Angeles and the Dodgers for a baseball stadium in Chavez Ravine.

The high court upheld validity of an agreement between Los Angeles and the City Housing Authority involving 169 acres, part of the 300-acre Chavez Ravine stadium site.

The decision, setting suits brought by Julius Ruben and Luis Kirshbaum, Los Angeles taxpayers, in effect reaffirmed the Supreme Court's decision of last Jan. 13.

That decision had upheld the Dodgers' real estate deal with the city.

League To Meet

A meeting of the County Softball League will be held today at 7:30 p. m., at the Corriganville Fire Hall. Player contracts are due at this session.

REBELS' SPRINTER SCORES — Melvin Monroe, sophomore negro speed merchant of South Hagerstown High School's Rebels, is shown breaking the tape in the 220 dash in the triangular track and field meet held yesterday at Fort Hill Stadium. The Hub City star beat Danny Webster, Fort Hill's ace sprinter, in both the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Monroe's time for the 220 was 24 seconds and for the century 10.6 seconds. Also shown in the photo are Webster, Franzinger of Martinsburg, who finished third, and Snowden, of South Hagerstown. Fort Hill won the meet.

Pirates Place Gene Baker On Disabled List

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Gene Baker, 33-year-old utility infielder, was placed on the disabled list by the Pittsburgh Pirates Tuesday because of a knee injury suffered last summer.

The former Chicago Cubs second baseman, who came here in a trade three seasons ago, underwent surgery for pulled tendons in his right knee shortly after being injured last August in St. Louis. But the knee continued to give him trouble during the spring training grind.

His loss to the Pirates for at least 30 days presented a severe jolt to the team's bench strength. Manager Danny Murtaugh was counting heavily on Baker as his No. 1 utility man.

However, still available for emergency infield duty are Dick Schofield and Harry Bright.

Baker was involved in a four-player swap which also brought first baseman Dee Fondy to the Pirates in exchange for first sacker Dale Long and outfielder Lee Walls, both of whom are still with the Cubs.

Navy Wins, 5-0

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Sophomore Chuck Davis gave up only two hits Tuesday as he pitched Navy to a 5-0 baseball victory over Georgetown of Washington, D. C.

The young lefthander had good control of his fast curve and walked only four while striking out 12. He fanned the side in the second and fifth innings.

It was the sixth victory in eight games for Navy and the sixth loss for winless Georgetown.

West Virginia Beats Fairmont

FAIRMONT, W. Va. (UPI)—West Virginia University rallied for two runs in the eighth inning Tuesday to hand hard hitting Fairmont College a 5-3 baseball defeat.

The win gave WVU a 10-2 record. Fairmont has a 1-2 mark.

Three homers were hit in the game. Bucky Bolyard smashed one in the first with the bases empty in the first for West Virginia, and Ed Helminski cracked one in the second with the bases empty for Fairmont. The third homer with one on was hit by Don VanMeter for the losers in the seventh.

Cubs' Hobbie Beats Cards In 1-0 Game

Stan Musial Gets Lone St. Louis Hit

CHICAGO (AP) — Young Glen Hobbie, Chicago Cubs' emergency starter, had a perfect game bid shattered by Stan Musial's two-out double in the seventh Wednesday as he gained a 1-0 decision over the St. Louis Cardinals with a one hitter.

Hobbie retired 20 Cardinals in order before Musial, hitting .194, slashed a bounder to left field just inside the foul line.

Musial last Saturday also ruined a no-hitter bid by San Francisco's Jack Sanford with a seventh inning single.

Hobbie had to pitch near-perfect ball to conquer a rookie Cardinal making his first major league start, Gary Blaylock, who scattered five hits.

Blaylock scattered 5 hits, walked 4 and struck out 5.

The Cubs scored in the second on Walt Moryn's single, a walk, an infield out and Sammy Taylor's single.

Hobbie, who will be 23 on Friday, had been tabbed for relief service this season. Because Dick Drott has been slow rounding into form and Bob Anderson is ill, Manager Bob Scheffing pressed Hobbie into service as a starter.

Campers' Ronnie Evans Beats Beall On No-Hitter, 4-0

Ronnie Evans turned in a no-run, no-hit performance yesterday to give Allegany High School a 4-0 decision over Beall High School in an Allegany County High School Baseball League game staged at Frostburg.

It was the second no-hitter credited to an Allegany High pitcher within a week, Cliff Montgomery having turned the trick against Flintstone on Friday, April 17 by the score of 21-0.

Coach Chester Payne's Campers obtained only two hits from the offerings three Beall pitchers—singles by Mike McKenzie in the fourth and Ansel Shircliffe in the seventh.

The Campers handed Beall its first loss of the campaign by scoring two runs in the fourth frame and a like number in the fifth.

Ronnie Evans yielded one base on balls and struck out nine. Jim Evans, the first of three Beall hurlers, was charged with the loss.

Announcement was made last night that Beall played the game under protest from the fifth inning on a ruling by the umpire which enabled a player to take three bases on an overthrow. Allegany scored two runs in the inning before the protest was lodged.

In other games staged yesterday, Valley High School handed Fort Hill its initial league setback at Barton by the score of 5-2, LaSalle's Explorers crushed Bruce High at Westernport, 16-7, and the Mt. Savage Indians trimmed the Aggies at Flintstone to the tune of 10-2.

Five Tied For Lead

As a result of yesterday's action five teams are now tied for first place, namely, Allegany, Fort Hill, Beall, LaSalle and Mt. Savage, with 2-1 records.

George Lauder scattered five hits, fanned seven and pilfered three hassocks as Coach John C. Meyers' Black Knights downed the Sentinels. Roger Wilson batted in two runs with a double and triple for Valley and Clarence Kean garnered two of Fort Hill's five safeties. Lauder, who beat Fort Hill in a 1-0 no-hitter last season, blanked the Sentinels until the final inning of yesterday's contest.

LaSalle Gets 15 Hits

Coach Norm Sell's LaSalle swatsmiths hammered the offerings of three pitchers for 15 blows to rout the Bulldogs at Westernport.

Lennox headed the assault with five hits in as many trips, including a two-bagger and home run. Brode obtained a pair of two-baggers and single and Spear larruped a triple and double.

Charles Rice hurled the first six frames for the Explorers and notched his second win of the campaign. Hinds came on to pitch the final frame. Ronnie Broadwater and Dick Wilson obtained four of the eight safeties credited to Bruce.

Score Seven In First

Mt. Savage High School scored seven runs in the first inning and added three more in the fifth to trounce Flintstone.

Collier and Smith, who followed him to the mound in the first inning, failed to get a man out and Reed Clingerman, Flintstone's third hurler, pitched seven complete frames.

Faulkner and D. Lowery sparked the Mt. Savage attack with three hits each.

Tom Carter went the route for the Indians and turned back the Aggies with four singles. Carter fanned ten as did Clingerman of Flintstone. Collier was charged with the loss.

Court Approves Deal For Stadium

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The California Supreme Court Tuesday again affirmed the deal between Los Angeles and the Dodgers for a baseball stadium in Chavez Ravine.

The high court upheld validity of an agreement between Los Angeles and the City Housing Authority involving 169 acres, part of the 300-acre Chavez Ravine stadium site.

The decision, setting suits brought by Julius Ruben and Luis Kirshbaum, Los Angeles taxpayers, in effect reaffirmed the Supreme Court's decision of last Jan. 13.

That decision had upheld the Dodgers' real estate deal with the city.

League To Meet

A meeting of the County Softball League will be held today at 7:30 p. m., at the Corriganville Fire Hall. Player contracts are due at this session.

REBELS' SPRINTER SCORES — Melvin Monroe, sophomore negro speed merchant of South Hagerstown High School's Rebels, is shown breaking the tape in the 220 dash in the triangular track and field meet held yesterday at Fort Hill Stadium. The Hub City star beat Danny Webster, Fort Hill's ace sprinter, in both the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Monroe's time for the 220 was 24 seconds and for the century 10.6 seconds. Also shown in the photo are Webster, Franzinger of Martinsburg, who finished third, and Snowden, of South Hagerstown. Fort Hill won the meet.

Pirates Place Gene Baker On Disabled List

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Gene Baker, 33-year-old utility infielder, was placed on the disabled list by the Pittsburgh Pirates Tuesday because of a knee injury suffered last summer.

The former Chicago Cubs second baseman, who came here in a trade three seasons ago, underwent surgery for pulled tendons in his right knee shortly after being injured last August in St. Louis. But the knee continued to give him trouble during the spring training grind.

His loss to the Pirates for at least 30 days presented a severe jolt to the team's bench strength. Manager Danny Murtaugh was counting heavily on Baker as his No. 1 utility man.

However, still available for emergency infield duty are Dick Schofield and Harry Bright.

Baker was involved in a four-player swap which also brought first baseman Dee Fondy to the Pirates in exchange for first sacker Dale Long and outfielder Lee Walls, both of whom are still with the Cubs.

Navy Wins, 5-0

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Sophomore Chuck Davis gave up only two hits Tuesday as he pitched Navy to a 5-0 baseball victory over Georgetown of Washington, D. C.

The young lefthander had good control of his fast curve and walked only four while striking out 12. He fanned the side in the second and fifth innings.

It was the sixth victory in eight games for Navy and the sixth loss for winless Georgetown.

West Virginia Beats Fairmont

FAIRMONT, W. Va. (UPI)—West Virginia University rallied for two runs in the eighth inning Tuesday to hand hard hitting Fairmont College a 5-3 baseball defeat.

The win gave WVU a 10-2 record. Fairmont has a 1-2 mark.

Three homers were hit in the game. Bucky Bolyard smashed one in the first with the bases empty in the first for West Virginia, and Ed Helminski cracked one in the second with the bases empty for Fairmont. The third homer with one on was hit by Don VanMeter for the losers in the seventh.

Cubs' Hobbie Beats Cards In 1-0 Game

Stan Musial Gets Lone St. Louis Hit

CHICAGO (AP) — Young Glen Hobbie, Chicago Cubs' emergency starter, had a perfect game bid shattered by Stan Musial's two-out double in the seventh Wednesday as he gained a 1-0 decision over the St. Louis Cardinals with a one hitter.

Hobbie retired 20 Cardinals in order before Musial, hitting .194, slashed a bounder to left field just inside the foul line.

Musial last Saturday also ruined a no-hitter bid by San Francisco's Jack Sanford with a seventh inning single.

Hobbie had to pitch near-perfect ball to conquer a rookie Cardinal making his first major league start, Gary Blaylock, who scattered five hits.

Blaylock scattered 5 hits, walked 4 and struck out 5.

The Cubs scored in the second on Walt Moryn's single, a walk, an infield out and Sammy Taylor's single.

Hobbie, who will be 23 on Friday, had been tabbed for relief service this season. Because Dick Drott has been slow rounding into form and Bob Anderson is ill, Manager Bob Scheffing pressed Hobbie into service as a starter.

De Gaulle Plans Tour

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle will make another swing through France early next month on his "meet the people" campaign, it was announced Tuesday. The tour will take him through the Valley of the Loire, a major tourist area, and to Orleans, where Joan of Arc won her victory over the British.

Slash Tea Breaks

BALDOCK, England (UPI) — The city council moved Tuesday to slash the time its employes were spending on "tea breaks." A new decree said anyone who took more than a 10-minute break a day would be fired.

Do you need extra candleholders? You can have them at small cost. Just buy some heavy iron nuts from the hardware store. You can paint them any color you wish at practically no cost. The threads in the nuts will hold the candle intact.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

Better Health Through Knowledge

Q. "Is there a medicine that can be taken by mouth for protection against poison ivy?" —R.A.

A. There are several preparations that are taken by mouth in drop dosage to protect against poison ivy. As an example of dosage, one drop may be given daily the first week, two drops daily the second week, and so on, building the daily dose up gradually. Acquiring resistance to poison ivy isn't so easy as it sounds and the good effects, if secured, wear off in about 6 months. Some people react sharply to just one drop of these poison ivy preparations. Doctors know how to avoid this so it is best not to try dosing yourself without medical advice. American Indians were the first to do something about preventing poison ivy and even today some tribes "protect" themselves each spring by chewing poison ivy leaves. Whether leaf-chewing helps is another question. In any case, this method isn't recommended.

Q. A Washington reader sends this letter (paraphrased): "After taking penicillin I broke out all over and my face became very swollen. This went away but I now have a red rash that breaks out in my mouth quite often. I have never had anything wrong with my mouth before. Could it be the penicillin?"

A. A direct yes or no answer can't be given but delayed-action flare-ups to penicillin do occur. Out of any large group of people a certain number will be sensitive or allergic to something. It may be penicillin, ragweed, household detergents, nail polish or what have you. Penicillin has a good record but about one person out of a hundred act up when they take it. For example, of almost 13,000 Navy recruits given a penicillin shot, a little over 1 per cent had trouble. In most cases symptoms went away promptly and didn't return but some men had repeats. Several recruits had flare-ups every so often for two or three months. Very often the recurrences involved parts of the body where slight injury occurred. Rifle drill caused the hands to swell—marching produced swollen feet. Fortunately, the relapses or late flare-ups gradually tapered off.

Answers do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all doctors. The diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician. Questions directed to Science Editors, P.O. Box 396, Madison Sq. Sta., N. Y. 10, N. Y. will be incorporated in these columns when possible.

Opening lead: King of ♥.

The declarer in today's hand was up against the question of locating the jack of trumps and succeeded in obviating the problem by a simple little ruse.

The final contract of four spades was slightly on the optimistic side, but the hand is admittedly difficult to bid. The two club response is acceptable and the rebid of two spades is routine. North felt that he had just a little too much to give up and commit the hand to a part score so he decided to make one more move. Inasmuch as the spades had been rebid he decided his holding was adequate trump support and offered a rathe, questionable raise to three spades. South had ample reason for going on to game.

The king of hearts was opened and taken with the ace. The success of the ambitious contract depended upon the ability to pick up the jack of trumps. As can be seen the finesse can be taken in either direction. But rather than commit himself at once, declarer hit upon a simple method of getting the opponents to lead trumps for him.

He promptly returned a heart in order to give the impression that he desired to use dummy's spades for ruffing hearts. There was no way for West to know that his partner had five hearts and from the bidding it did not appear that the jack of spades would be a very vital card, inasmuch as the trump suit had been rebid by declarer. West, therefore, fell into the trap and returned a spade. From this point on it was clear sailing for the declarer.

Opening lead: King of ♥.

The declarer in today's hand was up against the question of locating the jack of trumps and succeeded in obviating the problem by a simple little ruse.

The final contract of four spades was slightly on the optimistic side, but the hand is admittedly difficult to bid. The two club response is acceptable and the rebid of two spades is routine. North felt that he had just a little too much to give up and commit the hand to a part score so he decided to make one more move. Inasmuch as the spades had been rebid he decided his holding was adequate trump support and offered a rathe. questionable raise to three spades, South had ample reason for going on to game.

The king of hearts was opened and taken with the ace. The success of the ambitious contract depended upon the ability to pick up the jack of trumps. As can be seen the finesse can be taken in either direction. But rather than commit himself at once, declarer hit upon a simple method of getting the opponents to lead trumps for him.

He promptly returned a heart in order to give the impression that he desired to use dummy's spades for ruffing hearts. There was no way for West to know that his partner had five hearts and from the bidding it did not appear that the jack of spades would be a very vital card, inasmuch as the trump suit had been rebid by declarer. West, therefore, fell into the trap and returned a spade. From this point on it was clear sailing for the declarer.

Industrial Stocks Climb To Another Record High

NEW YORK (UPI)—The market ran into heavy profit taking in all groups. But selling wasn't sufficient to prevent industrials from setting a new record—their fourth straight advance to new highs.

The ability of the market to absorb selling and the continued leadership of quality issues were seen by brokers as generally bullish factors.

Once again there were more losses then gains despite the setting of a new record in the industrial average. Of the 1,257 issues traded 612 declined, 431 advanced and 214 held unchanged.

Wide swings in several issues provided a dramatic background to the market. Zenith in the electronics gave up more than 11 points. Rallied to a 3 point gain and then slipped back to close off 2. Starrett, a maker of mechanics' measuring tools ran up 23 after its directors proposed a four-for-one stock split.

The market was slightly more active with sales totaling 3,650,000 shares, against 3,610,000 Monday.

List industries, whose merger with Glen Alden received stockholder approval, was the day's most active, lost a fraction after gaining more than a point Monday.

Chemical and electronics issues continued to star. Eastman Kodak, which added 3¼ yesterday, tacked on another 6⅝. There was nothing specific in the news to account for the recent strength. Du Pont and Allied Chemical both had gains of 2 or more.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—The grain market was mixed Tuesday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

At the final bell, wheat was off 1⅜ to ⅞; corn off ¼ to up 1⅜; oats off ⅛ to up ¼; new oats unchanged to off ⅛; rye off 1⅜ to up ⅝; soybeans off 1½ to ½.

The futures trading was featured by liquidation of May contracts of wheat and rye, and short covering in May corn. Other deliveries were inclined to remain fairly steady.

May wheat contracts were weaker than deferred contracts. Longs apparently sold May with fair commission house buying on spreads. The export market was quiet.

Corn was firm, with export houses reported buyers of May and July. Some commission houses also bought July. An elevator house sold September and December corn. Receipts were lighter. Commodity Credit Corporation acceptances on subsidy bids totaled 2,409,000 bushels.

The oats market was mostly quiet with cash house brokers offering old July and September deliveries. Soybeans were steady for nearby and weaker for deferred contracts. Scattered liquidation occurred on a report that soybean acreage will be larger than the March indication.

Oil prices moved downward, and outside markets were mixed.

Local stocks of free wheat last week decreased 275,000 bushels to 5,911,000, and corn increased 770,000 bushels to 7,468,000.

Secrets Of Charm

Getting Gracefully Out Of A Car

Many women lose all distinction when getting out of a car.

I'll admit that the low ceiling of the modern automobile is partly to blame—you have to double up almost like a jackknife to keep from knocking off your hat.

The clever woman learns to adjust her actions to the limitations of space at her disposal.

Next time you get out of a car, use these tactics: Instead of trying to stand up and go through the door head first, slide over to the end of the seat. Then reach ou sidewise with the foot that is nearest the door until it touches the ground.

So far, so easy! But the next step takes practice—to gain the muscular coordination required for a perfect performance. Give a slight but firm push with the foot that is still in the car and use the leverage gained to lift your body up and out of the car in a sidewise position. Let your head and the cap of your shoulder lead. Your hips will follow naturally.

Now take the foot that is still in the car and place it beside the one on the ground and do a quick, graceful turn in the direction you wish to head. With a little practice, you can go through the routine without even using your hands for balance . . . or depending on the helping hand of your escort.

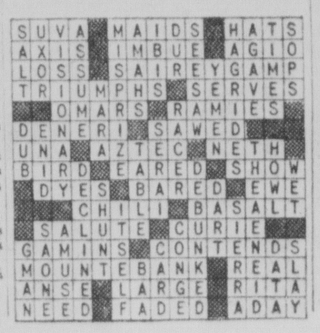

Of course, you wouldn't refuse the assistance of that gentleman nor attempt to get out of the car before he had opened the door—not if you have true feminine charm and a sense of appreciation.

Industrial Stocks Climb To Another Record High

NEW YORK (UPI)—The market ran into heavy profit taking in all groups. But selling wasn't sufficient to prevent industrials from setting a new record—their fourth straight advance to new highs.

The ability of the market to absorb selling and the continued leadership of quality issues were seen by brokers as generally bullish factors.

Once again there were more losses then gains despite the setting of a new record in the industrial average. Of the 1,257 issues traded 612 declined, 431 advanced and 214 held unchanged.

Wide swings in several issues provided a dramatic background to the market. Zenith in the electronics gave up more than 11 points. Rallied to a 3 point gain and then slipped back to close off 2. Starrett, a maker of mechanics' measuring tools ran up 23 after its directors proposed a four-for-one stock split.

The market was slightly more active with sales totaling 3,650,000 shares, against 3,610,000 Monday.

List industries, whose merger with Glen Alden received stockholder approval, was the day's most active, lost a fraction after gaining more than a point Monday.

Chemical and electronics issues continued to star. Eastman Kodak, which added 3¼ yesterday, tacked on another 6⅝. There was nothing specific in the news to account for the recent strength. Du Pont and Allied Chemical both had gains of 2 or more.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—The grain market was mixed Tuesday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

At the final bell, wheat was off 1⅝ to ⅜; corn off ¼ to up 1⅝; oats off ⅛ to up ¼; new oats unchanged to off ⅛; rye off 1⅝ to up ⅝; soybeans off 1½ to ½.

The futures trading was featured by liquidation of May contracts of wheat and rye, and short covering in May corn. Other deliveries were inclined to remain fairly steady.

May wheat contracts were weaker than deferred contracts. Longs apparently sold May with fair commission house buying on spreads. The export market was quiet.

Corn was firm, with export houses reported buyers of May and July. Some commission houses also bought July. An elevator house sold September and December corn. Receipts were lighter. Commodity Credit Corporation acceptances on subsidy bids totaled 2,409,000 bushels.

The oats market was mostly quiet with cash house brokers offering old July and September deliveries. Soybeans were steady for nearby and weaker for deferred contracts. Scattered liquidation occurred on a report that soybean acreage will be larger than the March indication.

Oil prices moved downward, and outside markets were mixed.

Local stocks of free wheat last week decreased 275,000 bushels to 5,911,000, and corn increased 770,000 bushels to 7,468,000. The range:

Secrets Of Charm

Getting Gracefully Out Of A Car

Many women lose all distinction when getting out of a car.

I'll admit that the low ceiling of the modern automobile is partly to blame—you have to double up almost like a jackknife to keep from knocking off your hat.

The clever woman learns to adjust her actions to the limitations of space at her disposal.

Next time you get out of a car, use these tactics: Instead of trying to stand up and go through the door head first, slide over to the end of the seat. Then reach ou sidewise with the foot that is nearest the door until it touches the ground.

So far, so easy! But the next step takes practice—to gain the muscular coordination required for a perfect performance. Give a slight but firm push with the foot that is still in the car and use the leverage gained to lift your body up and out of the car in a sidewise position. Let your head and the cap of your shoulder lead. Your hips will follow naturally.

Now take the foot that is still in the car and place it beside the one on the ground and do a quick, graceful turn in the direction you wish to head. With a little practice, you can go through the routine without even using your hands for balance . . . or depending on the helping hand of your escort.

Of course, you wouldn't refuse the assistance of that gentleman nor attempt to get out of the car before he had opened the door—not if you have true feminine charm and a sense of appreciation.

County Taxes Up 17 Cents For New Year

Most Departments Get Increases In 1959-60 Budget

Allegany County property owners will pay their 1959-60 county taxes on a rate of $2.22 for each $100 assessed valuation of property, a 17-cent increase above the level of the last four years as a result of yesterday's action of the Board of County Commissioners.

The commissioners set this highest tax rate in the county's history in levying the amount necessary to provide the funds for a $4,680,988.55 budget for the fiscal year which begins July 1.

One of the factors responsible for the increased rate is the appreciable reduction in the county's surplus. The surplus was estimated at $107,905.56, which is $81,150.71 less than the $189,056.27 reported at the close of the last fiscal year on June 30, 1958.

Could Have Been More

Although the county commissioners were reluctant to raise the county tax rate, they pointed out that the increase could have been 33 cents had they not chopped a number of the departmental budgets.

Commissioner William A. Wilson, the lone Republican on the board, noted that the 17-cent boost, the first in four years, actually represents an annual increase of only four-and-one-quarter cents over the four years.

The overall budget of $4,680,988.55 is $154,653.68 more than the $4,526,334.87 budget for the fiscal year which ends June 30.

Partially offsetting the increase in county tax rate is a drop of .83 cent in the state rate from 14.25 cents to 13.42 cents on each $100 of assessable property.

Seven major items in the new budget account for all but about $9,000 of the increase. Although the school budget for current operations is up only $14,524 to $1,918,524, total costs which can be attributed to schools in the new budget are $2,543,592.50, an increase of $51,524.08.

This total of school-connected expenditures is arrived at by adding together the school operating budget of $1,918,524, the school patrol budget of $300, teachers' retirement of $19,522.64, retirement of $161,000 in school bonds, $51,378.75 in interest on school bonds, $315,858.44 for retirement of school loans from the State of Maryland and $77,008.67 for interest on school construction loans.

$51,524 For Schools

The $51,524.08 boost in school-related costs is 33.3 per cent of the total budget increase of $154,653.68. This $2,543,592.50 total for school-related expenditures in the new budget is 54.3 per cent of the $4,680,988.55 total.

Almost as great as the total of school-related increases is the $49,000 item in the county roads budget for supplementary matching funds. Commissioner John T. Mason explained that this particular item is necessary for the county to be able to obtain $99,594 in secondary federal aid funds available during the fiscal year which ends June 30, 1960.

Actually, about $16,000 of this $49,000 road item is already available as a balance left over from the funds appropriated for the access road to the Pitttsburgh Plate Glass Company plant from Oldtown Road, State Route 51.

A new item in the 1959-60 budget is $12,941.61 for the surplus food program which was not in effect under the former county commissioners. This food distribution effort was reactivated as one of the first actions when Commissioners John J. Rowan, Mason and Wilson took office December 2.

Legislative Action

Some $11,177 of the budgetary increases is attributed to actions this year of the General Assembly in Annapolis. They include $2,500 increase in the salary of the judge of Circuit Court, $1,925 increase in the law library fund, $2,292 increase in Juvenile Court cost because of the freeing of the City of Cumberland from any responsibility for this court budget.

Other legislative boosts include $938.40 more in the budget for volunteer fire companies because of the organization of a new volunteer fire company at Oldtown; $2,000 in the sundry charities budget for a survey of mentally retarded children, and $1,522.64 in increased payments to retired teachers.

Other major boosts in the new budget are $8,787.55 for the Welfare Department, $7,685.89 more for the Health Department and $5,620.90 more for the county-wide tax collector. Still other budgetary boosts are $3,355.25 more for Court House expenditures, $814.88 more in salary for the clerk to the county commissioners, $500 increase in the county commissioners' expenses, $570 more for forest fire suppression, $3,189.15 more for the County Infirmary, $6,000 more in the item for patients in other hospitals, $7,200 more in the employes' retirement fund.

Higher Classification

Although no general increase in salary is provided for county employes, about 50 workers will receive increases because of higher Civil Service classifications in the new fiscal year. Covered by these increases are 24 working at the infirmary, three at the

Rubber Workers Begin Taking Strike Vote

Pact Negotiations Are Held Daily

Members of Local 26, Rubber Workers Union, last night began taking a strike vote in connection with contract negotiations and a grievance at the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, according to A. E. Johnson, union president.

The vote was continued until Thursday at Frank's Tavern.

William Sheetz, chairman of the election committee, said ballots may be cast Thursday from 6 to 8 a. m., 11 a. m. to 12:30 p. m., 2 to 4 p. m., 5:30 to 7 p. m. and 10 p. m. until midnight.

Mr. Johnson said the membership, at last night's meeting, approved and set up plans for the strike vote following reports of the contract negotiating committee.

He said the vote was called to back up the negotiating committee on demands for contract improvements and a 60-day notice given to the company on a grievance concerning rates, work loads and conditions in Department, 51-D, the curing room.

The company and the union have been negotiating since March 25 on proposed changes in the working agreement which is due to expire on May 1.

The contract covers some 1,650 workers at the local tire plant.

The discussions have covered amendments and modifications in the basic pact and changes in a separate agreement covering pensions and insurance, supplemental unemployment benefits and severance pay.

Negotiations are continuing daily, Mr. Johnson said.

$25,000 Suit Transferred To Allegany Co.

A $25,000 damage suit which was removed from Garrett County has been filed in Allegany County Circuit Court here.

The suit, instituted by Mary Ann Callis, 20, of 3310 Congress Street, SE, Washington, D.C., by her mother and next friend, Ireta Callis, was brought against Richard Earl Bittinger, Bloomington, last July in Garrett County.

The suit charges the plaintiff was riding as a passenger in an automobile operated by James Mosser, 22, of Oakland, and traveling west on State Route 135 two miles east of Deer Park.

The Mosser car was struck by a vehicle driven by the defendant at an excessive rate of speed on the wrong side of the highway, the suit charges. It further states that the plaintiff received severe neck injuries which partially handicapped one arm and hand and that she lost considerable time from her work as a government employe in Washington. She also was forced to spend considerable money for doctors and treatment, the suit contends, in asking for $25,000 damages from Bittinger.

The suit was filed in July 1958 by Attorney Stephen R. Pagenhardt, and was moved to Allegany County when the defendant petitioned for a change of venue. Depositions of testimony from witnesses in the case also were filed with the suit here.

The defendant's attorney is W. Earle Cobey of Cumberland.

Miss Burkey said the first graders have been rehearsing their program for several days, and friends of the school and parents of the newcomers have been invited.

Two Special Taxing Area Levies Lowered

Supplemental levies for two of Allegany County's four special taxing areas were lowered yesterday by the Board of County Commissioners and the other two will remain at the same level as for the 1958-59 fiscal year.

The levies were lowered for the Cresaptown Civic Improvement Association from 45 to 40 cents on each $100 of assessable property and in the Mt. Savage Special Taxing Area from 15 to 12 cents on each $100 of assessable property.

Remaining unchanged are the levies for the LaVale Sanitary Commission, at 10 cents on each $100 of assessable property and for Potomac Park Addition at eight cents on each $100 of assessable property.

Employe Units Will Meet With City Officials

The Mayor and Council will meet with representatives of the Police and Firemen's Welfare Association and Municipal Employes Local 812 on May 7.

Plans for the meetings were announced in messages from Mayor J. Edwin Keech to members of the City Council.

He said the Mayor and Council will meet with Robert Meister, president of the Police and Firemen's Welfare Association, and any other representatives who may desire to attend, on May 7 at 7:30 p. m.

A second meeting, he said, has been arranged with Charles Baker, president of Municipal Employes Local 812, for 8:30 p. m. on the same day.

Mayor Keech said the meetings will be held in the Mayor's office and urged council members to make every effort to be present.

The Mayor said both meetings were requested by the organizations.

County Issues Three Permits

Three dwelling permits totaling $24,500 have been approved by the Allegany County assessing department.

One permit was issued Monday to Wesley R. McGraw, Potomac Park, to construct a 28 by 40 brick veneer house costing $13,000 on Avenue C, Potomac Park. The house is expected to be completed by November.

W. Earl Hinkle, Artemas, Pa., obtained a permit to build a brick veneer dwelling, 31 by 40 feet on Sunset Drive, Braddock Road at an expected cost of $10,000. It also will be completed by November.

Metro P. Nazelrod, 1101 Braddock Road, got a permit to construct a 28 by 40 foot frame house on West Street in LaVale at an estimated cost of $1,500. It is to be completed by June of 1960.

An item in yesterday's edition of The News erroneously said the joint meeting would be held tonight.

10-Year Traffic Count Will Be Conducted Here

Will Check Points In 1949-50 Survey

A systematic survey to determine what changes have taken place in this city's traffic pattern during the last decade is being conducted by the City Engineering Department.

The study is being made in cooperation with the Police Department and at the request of Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming.

C. E. Young, engineer and head of the city's survey crew, will be in charge of the traffic count at each of the 24 check points set up during the 1949-50 traffic survey here.

The extensive traffic count will reveal any increases or decreases in traffic at the check points which were set up for the original survey.

Two-Day Count

The Engineering Department will use the Police Department's traffic counter for the study.

C. R. Nuzum, city engineer, said a two-day count will be made at each of the check points and added that the study will take most of the summer to complete.

The 1949-1950 traffic survey was made by the on-street interview method, and motorists were asked to tell where they came from and where they were going.

The survey which began yesterday will be only a traffic count but will give city officials a comparable picture.

Was Up In 1957

It will be the first complete count made since the major study made by the State Roads Commission and the City of Cumberland.

Traffic data secured in this survey resulted in recommendations for a major change in the city's traffic pattern, including the Cumberland Thruway project.

The last count, taken at major points in 1957 by the Police Department, showed that traffic had increased 35.5 per cent since the survey was made.

Traffic Seem Heavier? It Is

BALTIMORE (AP) — If traffic on Maryland highways and streets seems heavier than ever, you're right. It is.

The Department of Motor Vehicles said Tuesday incomplete returns show that the number of passenger cars registered in Maryland this year is 6 per cent higher than last year.

The department also said the number of cars covered by personal injury and property damage liability insurance rose one per cent over last year, from 91.5 to 92.5 per cent.

The department registered 603,371 cars by mail and at the Baltimore office by the March 31 deadline. Returns from county offices are still trickling in, but these normally account for only about 20 per cent of the total.

The mail and city figures show an increase of 34,848 over the total registrations received by March 31, 1958.

Chaney Wins Safety Award

The Chaney Transportation Company of Cumberland had the best safety record of any trucking firm in the United States operating less than a million miles in 1958, the American Trucking Association announced yesterday.

The ATA said the local trucking company won first place in categories for general commodities carriers operating less than a million miles a year in local service, and in a combination of over-the-road and local service.

Only three other truck companies in the United States had similarly high records. They were Pacific Intermountain Express Company of Oakland, Calif., which won top national honors; Mason & Dixon Lines of Kingsport, Tenn., and Cushman Motor Delivery Company of Chicago.

Joseph L. Snyder Jr. is traffic manager of the local company, which is headed by Earl D. Chaney, president.

Youths Face Charges In Girl's Death

Coroner's Jury Hears Testimony

A Bedford County (Pa.) coroner's jury yesterday ordered two teen-age youths held for action of the grand jury on charges of involuntary manslaughter in the death of a Cumberland high school girl last October.

District Attorney William Van Horn released Lester Norris, 19, of Route 5, Cumberland, and Gary P. Miller, 17, of Hyndman, Pa., on their own recognizance until the grand jury convenes May 4 at 10 a. m. in the Bedford County Court House.

The jury at the inquest heard testimony in the highway accident which caused the death of Carol Jean Cox, 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Cox, 433 Race Street.

Four Others Injured

Miss Cox was killed instantly in the one-car smashup about three miles south of Hyndman on State Route 96. Four other persons were injured in the crash, which occurred at Clites' Curve last October 21.

Pennsylvania State Police said the Norris youth was the driver of the car in which Miss Cox was a passenger. Miller was operating another vehicle which they said apparently was racing the Norris car at the time of the accident.

Also hurt in the accident were Norris, then 18 and stationed with the Air Force at Schilling AF Base, Kansas; Joyce Johnson, 17, of 207 Laing Avenue; Gloria Cramblitt, 15, of 408 East Fourth Street: and Marjorie Davis, 14, of 510 City View Terrace.

Miller Testifies

All testified at yesterday's hearing conducted by Dr. J. H. Kniseley, Bedford County coroner, who sat with a six-man jury at the inquest.

Also testifying were the Miller youth and Trooper Chester Rowan who investigated the accident for the State Police.

Trooper Rowan said the young airman was driving his car south on the highway when he lost control of the automobile as he rounded the curve. The vehicle hit an embankment, careened about 100 feet into a gully and rolled over several times. All of the injured were riding in the Norris car.

Driver Injured As Car Skids, Rolls Over

A 27-year-old New Paris, Pa., man was injured in a one-car accident on U.S. Route 30 near Bedford yesterday about 4 p.m.

Pennsylvania State Police said Sheldon Rouser was admitted to Bedford County Memorial Hospital with a broken shoulder blade, cuts on the left hand and chin, and bruises and abrasions over his entire body. He is reported in "fair" condition.

Police said Rouser was driving alone when he attempted to round a curve and lost control of the vehicle.

The car skidded approximately 525 feet, went off the highway, over an embankment, traveled about 60 feet through the air, hit the ground and rolled over several times, police stated.

The injured man will be charged with reckless driving, investigating officers said, and will be given a hearing before Justice of the Peace Frank Templeton in Bedford.

In another accident involving a New Paris motorist, a 12-year-old New Paris boy was struck by an automobile on the main street of that northern Bedford County town yesterday morning.

State Police said Abraham Lotshaw sustained a broken right leg when he was struck by a car operated by Ross Taylor, about 62, of New Paris RD.

The boy reportedly was crossing the street to board a school bus when the accident occurred. It was at first believed he was not injured and he went to school, limping somewhat on his injured leg.

Upon his return home he was examined by a doctor who discovered the leg was broken just above the ankle, police said. The boy was admitted to Bedford County Memorial Hospital.

Air Force Offers Training Program

The Air Force is offering an opportunity to college graduates to secure commissions under a new officer training school program, according to S/Sgt. James A. Hawthorne, local recruiter.

Graduates who meet the necessary qualifications will undergo three months' training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas, prior to being commissioned second lieutenants. Each newly commissioned officer will be assigned directly to duty or to further specialized training.

Information is available to college graduates at the Air Force Recruiting Station, Post Office Building.

Policeman Teaches Kids To 'Sing For Safety'

Allegany County school children are singing for safety this week with Baltimore County's "singing policeman."

He is Lt. Lawrence E. Jacques, a member of the Baltimore County Police Department and chairman of the safety committee of that county's board of education.

Lt. Jacques is spending the week in this county, presenting safety programs in schools, at the request of Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming and Finance Commissioner Lucile Roeder.

He is being accompanied by Porter Trice, field representative of the Maryland Traffic Bureau, and Officer Charles Cubbage of the Cumberland Police Department.

The singing policeman will conduct a safety assembly today at 9:15 a. m. in Oldtown School and at Flintstone School at 12:45 p. m.

Tomorrow's schedule includes a program at Mt. Savage School at 9:15 a. m., at Beall Elementary School at 10:30 a. m. and 12:30 p. m. and at Midland School at 2 p. m.

Friday's schedule is not complete but will include programs at three schools.

He presented programs at McCoole, Westernport, Barton, Mt. Royal, Centre Street and John Humbird schools on Monday and yesterday.

During the programs, "Sing for Safety" booklets are presented to each student. They include safety songs written by Lt. Jacques, and tips for safe bicycle riding.

Each student is asked to repeat the following pledge:

I will not play in the street.
I will cross streets only at corners.
I will look both ways before stepping from curb.
I will not run between parked cars.
I will be careful and obey all safety rules when I ride my bicycle, scooter, sled or skates.
I will swim and play the safe way.
I will be a good "Safety Officer" and I will live for America.

Lt. Jacques, who is making his third visit here, sings and plays the piano and leads the group singing.

That's an easy job for the lieutenant, who was in show business before he became a policeman. He is currently assigned to public relations and safety duties.

He was assigned to the task in Baltimore County in 1952 to reduce the toll of children killed or injured on their way to school over that county's 1,500 miles of streets and highways.

In all of his talks, Lt. Jacques praises the work and safety records of school safety patrols.

He said yesterday that so far as he knows, he is the first person to use music to teach traffic safety.

Spiker Pigeon Wins First Race

First old bird race of the 1959 series of the Allegany Racing Pigeon Club was flown Sunday from West Union, W. Va., a distance of 100 miles.

The birds encountered fog midway on the course, slowing the speed and splitting the flock. The winner flew in at a fair average speed. Some 260 birds representing 14 lofts competed.

Grizzle Amiel from the Wing Ridge Loft of R. L. Spiker was the victor, averaging 1,051.08 yards per minute. Second was Jimminy from the Lost Loft of Dudley A. Shafer, averaging 1,044.11 yards per minute. Third was Jim Silver fron Tinkers Loft of Alburtis Llewellyn, averaging 1,035.61 yards per minute.

Others among the top ten were Dougie, from the MacArthur Loft of C. A. Smith, 1,026.92 yards per minute; AAA from the Lost Loft, 1,018.11 yards per minute: Blue Boy from Wing Ridge Loft, 1,016.32 yards per minute; Happy from Excello Loft of M. M. Green, 1,008.99 yards per minute; Silver Dust from Pear Alley Loft of J. H. Sweitzer, 1,007.81 yards per minute; Silver, also from Pear Alley Loft, 1,001.39 yards per minute; Dark Eyes, from Gallo Loft of Charles Buskirk, 996.56 yards per minute.

Local Student's 'Murder' Panics Two U.Md. Coeds

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—The cast took a breather Monday night while rehearsing "Kiss Me Kate" for a University of Maryland student production.

David M. Blackburn of Cumberland, and Gerald A. Kroop, Baltimore, walked outside to the parking lot for a breath of fresh air. Other students in the cast tagged along.

While outside, they decided to run through a part in the play where Kroop shoots Blackburn—with blanks in the pistol, of course.

Two shots rang out, and Blackburn dropped.

That's the only part two coeds saw. They ran to their dormitory and frantically told their housemother about the murder they had just witnessed.

University police came running. After considerable explaining, the cops left, and the rehearsal proceeded — inside.

284 Beverage Licenses Ready For Applicants

Some 284 alcoholic beverage licenses are ready for distribution to the applicants for the new year starting May 1 as a result of the action of the Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverages Licenses Commissioners yesterday.

One change was the approval of a Class C beer, wine and liquor licenses for the Clarysville Fire Department, subject to the concurrence of the Health Department. This establishment formerly held only a Class D beer permit.

The board also voted to suspend the liquor license of the Cumberland Liquor Store, 419 Henderson Avenue, as a result of a conviction last October for sale to a minor. The conviction was appealed to the Court of Appeals and the appeal was dismissed last month. The suspension period begins at midnight Saturday and continues through Tuesday, May 5.

Four new applicants for Class D beer licenses at old locations received approval from the liquor board. They were Harry P. Lancaster for Homewood Tavern at Mt. Savage, Nellie G. Boone, 305 Baltimore Avenue, Anna Broadwater, Barton, and Ruth G. Metz, 315 Springdale Street. All except the last have been in effect throughout this current liquor license year. The Springdale Street license was surrendered by the former holder last month.

The liquor board office on the third floor at the Court House remained open until 4 p. m. yesterday to distribute the required applications to the tavern keepers. The applicant must get his application from the liquor board office and then take it to the office of the clerk of Circuit Court to get his license.

Twenty-three obtained their new licenses yesterday. The liquor board office will remain open until 4 p. m. each day through April 30 for the convenience of the license holders.

The 284 licenses approved include 28 Class A off sale beer licenses, 115 Class D on and off beer licenses, nine Class A beer and wine off sale licenses, 15 Class D beer and wine licenses for on and off consumption, 60 Class D tavern beer, wine and liquor licenses and 49 Class C club-type beer, wine and liquor licenses.

Fire Is Extinguished

East Side Fire Company extinguished a grass fire on Shriver's Hill at the rear of Independence Street yesterday. Firemen answered the alarm at 12:59 p. m. and returned at 1:21 p. m. Little damage was reported.

West Side Classes Plan Musical Show Tonight

The fourth, fifth and sixth grades of West Side School will present a program of songs and dances today and Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at the school.

The script for the play was written by the sixth graders in Mrs. LaVern Cross' room.

The story takes place in a space ship, Astrolab II, where plans are made for representatives from Terra to share their culture with King Solarian and his Martian subjects.

Operating the space ship will be Robert Harvey, Larry Ford, Bill Randolph, Doug Mackey, David Young and Donald Frederick.

King Solarian is played by Kenneth Swauger. The Martians are Bonnie Gilpin, Bonnie Harrison, Ann Mall, Lois Jean Cole, Terrilea Robinson, Cheryl Zaiz and Linda Yeager.

The space ship scenery was painted and planned by the boys and girls of Miss Ann Riggleman's and Mrs. Ruth Propst's rooms.

Representatives of earth's countries are Dale Middleton, America; Jane Nicklin, England; Esther Waugaman, Ireland; Bonnie Short, Scotland; Jackie Chandler, Sweden; Barbara Sigel, Israel; Joyce Goetz, Mexico; Susan Evans, Switzerland; and Patty Horn, Italy.

Over 200 children will participate in the program.

Mrs. Margaret Carroll, music teacher, assisted the other teachers in directing the program. Instructors are Miss Leona Myers; Mrs. Cross; Mrs. Nellie Isaacs; Miss Riggleman; Miss Anona Brehany; Mrs. Propst; and David Phillips.

Miss Riggleman will sing "Carmen Carmela" and Mrs. Betty Verdery will sing the "Italian Street Song" as part of the program.

Doubts Raised Over Fate Of Canal Measure

Backers Oppose Dam Site Proviso

By FRANK E. TAYLOR

WASHINGTON (AP) — Doubts were raised Tuesday over the fate of legislation to create a Chesapeake and Ohio Canal National Historical Park.

Several backers of the proposed 185-mile park from near Washington to Cumberland, Md., testified they would rather have no bill at all than one with a reservation for a dam site.

Among these was Director Conrad L. Wirth of the National Park Service — the last witness at a hearing by the House Public Lands subcommittee.

In reply to questions by Chairman Gracie Pfost (D - Idaho), Wirth said if legislation "sacrifices any part of the canal — five miles, or 35, or 80 — without better information than we now have (concerning the need of a dam at River Bend on the Potomac River), I'd say no bill at all."

A similar view was expressed by Stewart M. Brandborg of the National Wildlife Federation.

Criticizes Restriction

Brandborg criticized a proviso in two of the pending bills which would restrict park improvement in a 35-mile stretch between Great Falls on the Potomac and Brunswick, Md., to provide for a possible reservoir, pending a comprehensive study plan by Army Engineers.

This provision, he said, would seriously hamper the future administration of the canal area, presently under the jurisdiction of the National Park Service.

Brandborg said the canal from Washington to Cumberland was bought by the government in 1933 and is already a park.

Retention of the present status of the canal park lands, he added, would be preferred to the enactment of a bill with such a provision.

Hopes For Approval

Mrs. Pfost said after the hearing she had hoped for approval of a bill to provide for a park at least above the area which would be flooded by a River Bend dam.

"I had hoped to accomplish that much this session," she told reporters at the end of the hearing. She added that the views of Wirth and some of the other park supporters posed a problem.

"I don't know what the committee will do," she said.

Rep. John P. Saylor (R-Pa), a subcommittee member and an advocate of a bill without any dam reservation, said he also could not predict what the committee will do.

"I can only be hopeful," he said. He added that he does not want a park bill with any reservation which might be a jeopardy to the entire park system.

Would Threaten Parks

Opponents of the reservation provision have contended such a section would be a threat to national parks and that it is unnecessary because Congress already has the power to authorize dams and other developments within a park.

Rep. John Foley (D-Md), a chief sponsor of C & O park legislation, was more optimistic.

"I think they (the committee) will come out with a bill," he said. "Everybody is in favor of a park."

Mrs. Pfost said she doesn't know when the subcommittee can meet to pass on the legislation. The group already has hearings set for other legislation, she said.

Col. George B. Sumner, Washington district Army engineer, said in reply to questions that he does not believe low dams could be built for water storage without flooding the canal area. He said that was based on general knowledge of the area and not on any study.

Foley Seeks Alternative

Foley, who has been regularly attending the hearings although not a committee member, testified for a park bill.

"I'm not afraid of this Congress or any future Congress destroying the great values of the C and O Canal area," he said.

He added that he hopes the Army Engineers will find an alternative to building a dam at River Bend.

Brandborg, questioned in detail by members, said he objected to what he described as blanket authority for a dam being given to the Army Engineers.

"I can't understand the concern now about a water supply (for the Washington area) in view of the many alternative dam sites," he said.

Equity Suits Filed

Four equity suits have been filed in Allegany County Circuit Court. The bills of complaint were titled Frances M. Atkinson vs. Jack H. Atkinson, Flossie Pearl Leonard vs. William G. Leonard, Edna B. Fox vs. James E. Fox, and June Ryan vs. Richard J. Ryan.

County Taxes Up 17 Cents For New Year

Most Departments Get Increases In 1959-60 Budget

Allegany County property owners will pay their 1959-60 county taxes on a rate of $2.22 for each $100 assessed valuation of property, a 17-cent increase above the level of the last four years as a result of yesterday's action of the Board of County Commissioners.

The commissioners set this highest tax rate in the county's history in levying the amount necessary to provide the funds for a $4,680,988.55 budget for the fiscal year which begins July 1.

One of the factors responsible for the increased rate is the appreciable reduction in the county's surplus. The surplus was estimated at $107,905.56, which is $81,150.71 less than the $189,056.27 reported at the close of the last fiscal year on June 30, 1958.

Could Have Been More

Although the county commissioners were reluctant to raise the county tax rate, they pointed out that the increase could have been 33 cents had they not chopped a number of the departmental budgets.

Commissioner William A. Wilson, the lone Republican on the board, noted that the 17-cent boost, the first in four years, actually represents an annual increase of only four-and-one-quarter cents over the four years.

The overall budget of $4,680,988.55 is $154,653.68 more than the $4,526,334.87 budget for the fiscal year which ends June 30.

Partially offsetting the increase in county tax rate is a drop of .83 cent in the state rate from 14.25 cents to 13.42 cents on each $100 of assessable property.

Seven major items in the new budget account for all but about $9,000 of the increase. Although the school budget for current operations is up only $14,524 to $1,918,524, total costs which can be attributed to schools in the new budget are $2,543,592.50, an increase of $51,524.08.

This total of school-connected expenditures is arrived at by adding together the school operating budget of $1,918,524, the school patrol budget of $300, teachers' retirement of $19,522.64, retirement of $161,000 in school bonds, $51,378.75 in interest on school bonds, $315,858.44 for retirement of school loans from the State of Maryland and $77,008.67 for interest on school construction loans.

$51,524 For Schools

The $51,524.08 boost in school-related costs is 33.3 per cent of the total budget increase of $154,653.68. This $2,543,592.50 total for school-related expenditures in the new budget is 54.3 per cent of the $4,680,988.55 total.

Almost as great as the total of school-related increases is the $49,000 item in the county roads budget for supplementary matching funds. Commissioner John T. Mason explained that this particular item is necessary for the county to be able to obtain $99,594 in secondary federal aid funds available during the fiscal year which ends June 30, 1960.

Actually, about $16,000 of this $49,000 road item is already available as a balance left over from the funds appropriated for the access road to the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant from Oldtown Road, State Route 51.

A new item in the 1959-60 budget is $12,941.61 for the surplus food program which was not in effect under the former county commissioners. This food distribution effort was reactivated as one of the first actions when Commissioners John J. Rowan, Mason and Wilson took office December 2.

Legislative Action

Some $11,177 of the budgetary increases is attributed to actions this year of the General Assembly in Annapolis. They include $2,500 increase in the salary of the judge of Circuit Court, $1,925 increase in the law library fund, $2,292 increase in Juvenile Court cost because of the freeing of the City of Cumberland from any responsibility for this court budget.

Other legislative boosts include $938.40 more in the budget for volunteer fire companies because of the organization of a new volunteer fire company at Oldtown; $2,000 in the sundry charities budget for a survey of mentally retarded children, and $1,522.64 in increased payments to retired teachers.

Other major boosts in the new budget are $8,787.55 for the Welfare Department, $7,685.89 more for the Health Department and $5,620.90 more for the county-wide tax collector. Still other budgetary boosts are $3,355.25 more for Court House expenditures, $814.88 more in salary for the clerk to the county commissioners, $500 increase in the county commissioners' expenses, $570 more for forest fire suppression, $3,189.15 more for the County Infirmary, $6,000 more in the item for patients in other hospitals, $7,200 more in the employes' retirement fund.

Higher Classification

Although no general increase in salary is provided for county employes, about 50 workers will receive increases because of higher Civil Service classifications in the new fiscal year. Covered by these increases are 24 working at the infirmary, three at the

Rubber Workers Begin Taking Strike Vote

Pact Negotiations Are Held Daily

Members of Local 26, Rubber Workers Union, last night began taking a strike vote in connection with contract negotiations and a grievance at the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, according to A. E. Johnson, union president.

The vote was continued until Thursday at Frank's Tavern.

William Sheetz, chairman of the election committee, said ballots may be cast Thursday from 6 to 8 a. m., 11 a. m. to 12:30 p. m., 2 to 4 p. m., 5:30 to 7 p. m. and 10 p. m. until midnight.

Mr. Johnson said the membership, at last night's meeting, approved and set up plans for the strike vote following reports of the contract negotiating committee.

He said the vote was called to back up the negotiating committee on demands for contract improvements and a 60-day notice given to the company on a grievance concerning rates, work loads and conditions in Department, 51-D, the curing room.

The company and the union have been negotiating since March 25 on proposed changes in the working agreement which is due to expire on May 1.

The contract covers some 1,650 workers at the local tire plant.

The discussions have covered amendments and modifications in the basic pact and changes in a separate agreement covering pensions and insurance, supplemental unemployment benefits and severance pay.

Negotiations are continuing daily, Mr. Johnson said.

$25,000 Suit Transferred To Allegany Co.

A $25,000 damage suit which was removed from Garrett County has been filed in Allegany County Circuit Court here.

The suit, instituted by Mary Ann Callis, 20, of 3310 Congress Street, SE, Washington, D.C., by her mother and next friend, Ireta Callis, was brought against Richard Earl Bittinger, Bloomington, last July in Garrett County.

The suit charges the plaintiff was riding as a passenger in an automobile operated by James Mosser, 22, of Oakland, and traveling west on State Route 135 two miles east of Deer Park.

The Mosser car was struck by a vehicle driven by the defendant at an excessive rate of speed on the wrong side of the highway, the suit charges. It further states that the plaintiff received severe neck injuries which partially handicapped one arm and hand and that she lost considerable time from her work as a government employe in Washington. She also was forced to spend considerable money for doctors and treatment, the suit contends, in asking for $25,000 damages from Bittinger.

The suit was filed in July 1958 by Attorney Stephen R. Pagenhardt, and was moved to Allegany County when the defendant petitioned for a change of venue. Depositions of testimony from witnesses in the case also were filed with the suit here.

The defendant's attorney is W. Earle Cobey of Cumberland.

Northeast First Graders To Welcome Newcomers

The first graders of Northeast School will entertain the children who will enroll for the first time in September, at a classroom party Friday at 2 p. m., according to Raymond Skidmore, school principal.

Miss Margaret Burkey, first grade teacher, said the children have arranged a program of songs, poems, dances and a dramatization, and there will be nursery rhymes, drills and games.

The dramatization is entitled "Caps for Sale," with Duane Boyd as the storyteller. William Squires will play the Peddler. Michael D'Atoi, Dale Mease, Gary Shanholtz, Grace Marrale, Nancy Jean Seibert, Steven Beeghly, Linda Joy Mocci and Vicki Nee will enact the role of monkeys.

Ronald Sulser, Georgia Forebeck, Donna Detrick, James Welsh, Jeanne Weimer, Linda Lee, Michael Miller and Allen Rice will represent trees.

Miss Burkey said the first graders have been rehearsing their program for several days, and friends of the school and parents of the newcomers have been invited.

Two Special Taxing Area Levies Lowered

Supplemental levies for two of Allegany County's four special taxing areas were lowered yesterday by the Board of County Commissioners and the other two will remain at the same level as for the 1958-59 fiscal year.

The levies were lowered for the Cresaptown Civic Improvement Association from 45 to 40 cents on each $100 of assessable property and in the Mt. Savage Special Taxing Area from 15 to 12 cents on each $100 of assessable property.

Remaining unchanged are the levies for the LaVale Sanitary Commission, at 10 cents on each $100 of assessable property and for Potomac Park Addition at eight cents on each $100 of assessable property.

Employe Units Will Meet With City Officials

The Mayor and Council will meet with representatives of the Police and Firemen's Welfare Association and Municipal Employes Local 812 on May 7.

Plans for the meetings were announced in messages from Mayor J. Edwin Keech to members of the City Council.

He said the Mayor and Council will meet with Robert Meister, president of the Police and Firemen's Welfare Association, and any other representatives who may desire to attend, on May 7 at 7:30 p. m.

A second meeting, he said, has been arranged with Charles Baker, president of Municipal Employes Local 812, for 8:30 p. m. on the same day.

Mayor Keech said the meetings will be held in the Mayor's office and urged council members to make every effort to be present.

The Mayor said both meetings were requested by the organizations.

County Issues Three Permits

Three dwelling permits totaling $24,500 have been approved by the Allegany County assessing department.

One permit was issued Monday to Wesley R. McGraw, Potomac Park, to construct a 28 by 40 brick veneer house costing $13,000 on Avenue C, Potomac Park. The house is expected to be completed by November.

W. Earl Hinkle, Artemas, Pa., obtained a permit to build a brick veneer dwelling, 31 by 40 feet on Sunset Drive, Braddock Road at an expected cost of $10,000. It also will be completed by November.

Metro P. Nazelrod, 1101 Braddock Road, got a permit to construct a 28 by 40 foot frame house on West Street in LaVale at an estimated cost of $1,500. It is to be completed by June of 1960.

Optimists To Hear Dr. Church Next Week

Dr. Ernest E. Church, president of Potomac State College, Keyser, W. Va., will address a joint meeting of the Cumberland and Bedford Road Optimist clubs next Wednesday at 6:15 p. m. in Central YMCA. An item in yesterday's edition of The News erroneously said the joint meeting would be held tonight.

10-Year Traffic Count Will Be Conducted Here

Will Check Points In 1949-50 Survey

A systematic survey to determine what changes have taken place in this city's traffic pattern during the last decade is being conducted by the City Engineering Department.

The study is being made in cooperation with the Police Department and at the request of Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming.

C. E. Young, engineer and head of the city's survey crew, will be in charge of the traffic count at each of the 24 check points set up during the 1949-50 traffic survey here.

The extensive traffic count will reveal any increases or decreases in traffic at the check points which were set up for the original survey.

Two-Day Count

The Engineering Department will use the Police Department's traffic counter for the study.

C. R. Nuzum, city engineer, said a two-day count will be made at each of the check points and added that the study will take most of the summer to complete.

The 1949-1950 traffic survey was made by the on-street interview method, and motorists were asked to tell where they came from and where they were going.

The survey which began yesterday will be only a traffic count but will give city officials a comparable picture.

Was Up In 1957

It will be the first complete count made since the major study made by the State Roads Commission and the City of Cumberland.

Traffic data secured in this survey resulted in recommendations for a major change in the city's traffic pattern, including the Cumberland Thruway project.

The last count, taken at major points in 1957 by the Police Department, showed that traffic had increased 35.5 per cent since the survey was made.

Traffic Seem Heavier? It Is

BALTIMORE (AP) — If traffic on Maryland highways and streets seems heavier than ever, you're right. It is.

The Department of Motor Vehicles said Tuesday incomplete returns show that the number of passenger cars registered in Maryland this year is 6 per cent higher than last year.

The department also said the number of cars covered by personal injury and property damage liability insurance rose one per cent over last year, from 91.5 to 92.5 per cent.

The department registered 603,371 cars by mail and at the Baltimore office by the March 31 deadline. Returns from county offices are still trickling in, but these normally account for only about 20 per cent of the total.

The mail and city figures show an increase of 34,848 over the total registrations received by March 31, 1958.

Chaney Wins Safety Award

The Chaney Transportation Company of Cumberland had the best safety record of any trucking firm in the United States operating less than a million miles in 1958, the American Trucking Association announced yesterday.

The ATA said the local trucking company won first place in categories for general-commodities carriers operating less than a million miles a year in local service, and in a combination of over-the-road and local service.

Only three other truck companies in the United States had similarly high records. They were Pacific Intermountain Express Company of Oakland, Calif., which won top national honors; Mason & Dixon Lines of Kingsport, Tenn., and Cushman Motor Delivery Company of Chicago.

Joseph L. Snyder Jr. is traffic manager of the local company, which is headed by Earl D. Chaney, president.

Youths Face Charges In Girl's Death

Coroner's Jury Hears Testimony

A Bedford County (Pa.) coroner's jury yesterday ordered two teen-age youths held for action of the grand jury on charges of involuntary manslaughter in the death of a Cumberland high school girl last October.

District Attorney William Van Horn released Lester Norris, 19, of Route 5, Cumberland, and Gary P. Miller, 17, of Hyndman, Pa., on their own recognizance until the grand jury convenes May 4 at 10 a. m. in the Bedford County Court House.

The jury at the inquest heard testimony in the highway accident which caused the death of Carol Jean Cox, 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Cox, 433 Race Street.

Four Others Injured

Miss Cox was killed instantly in the one-car smashup about three miles south of Hyndman on State Route 96. Four other persons were injured in the crash, which occurred at Clites' Curve last October 21.

Pennsylvania State Police said the Norris youth was the driver of the car in which Miss Cox was a passenger. Miller was operating another vehicle which they said apparently was racing the Norris car at the time of the accident.

Also hurt in the accident were Norris, then 18 and stationed with the Air Force at Schilling AF Base, Kansas; Joyce Johnson, 17, of 207 Laing Avenue; Gloria Cramblitt, 15, of 408 East Fourth Street; and Marjorie Davis, 14, of 510 City View Terrace.

Miller Testifies

All testified at yesterday's hearing conducted by Dr. J. H. Kniseley, Bedford County coroner, who sat with a six-man jury at the inquest.

Also testifying were the Miller youth and Trooper Chester Rowan who investigated the accident for the State Police.

Trooper Rowan said the young airman was driving his car south on the highway when he lost control of the automobile as he rounded the curve. The vehicle hit an embankment, careened about 100 feet into a gully and rolled over several times. All of the injured were riding in the Norris car.

Driver Injured As Car Skids, Rolls Over

A 27-year-old New Paris, Pa., man was injured in a one-car accident on U.S. Route 30 near Bedford yesterday about 4 p.m.

Pennsylvania State Police said Sheldon Rouser was admitted to Bedford County Memorial Hospital with a broken shoulder blade, cuts on the left hand and chin, and bruises and abrasions over his entire body. He is reported in "fair" condition.

Police said Rouser was driving alone when he attempted to round a curve and lost control of the vehicle.

The car skidded approximately 525 feet, went off the highway, over an embankment, traveled about 60 feet through the air, hit the ground and rolled over several times, police stated.

The injured man will be charged with reckless driving, investigating officers said, and will be given a hearing before Justice of the Peace Frank Templeton in Bedford.

In another accident involving a New Paris motorist, a 12-year-old New Paris boy was struck by an automobile on the main street of that northern Bedford County town yesterday morning.

State Police said Abraham Lotshaw sustained a broken right leg when he was struck by a car operated by Ross Taylor, about 62, of New Paris RD.

The boy reportedly was crossing the street to board a school bus when the accident occurred. It was at first believed he was not injured and he went to school, limping somewhat on his injured leg.

Upon his return home he was examined by a doctor who discovered the leg was broken just above the ankle, police said. The boy was admitted to Bedford County Memorial Hospital.

Air Force Offers Training Program

The Air Force is offering an opportunity to college graduates to secure commissions under a new officer training school program, according to S/Sgt. James A. Hawthorne, local recruiter.

Graduates who meet the necessary qualifications will undergo three months' training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas, prior to being commissioned second lieutenants. Each newly commissioned officer will be assigned directly to duty or to further specialized training.

A number of specialized courses are offered, including aircraft maintenance, auditor, guidance systems, air traffic control, nuclear weapons, photo-radar statistical services, and intelligence.

Information is available to college graduates at the Air Force Recruiting Station, Post Office Building.

Policeman Teaches Kids To 'Sing For Safety'

Allegany County school children are singing for safety this week with Baltimore County's "singing policeman."

He is Lt. Lawrence E. Jacques, a member of the Baltimore County Police Department and chairman of the safety committee of that county's board of education.

Lt. Jacques is spending the week in this county, presenting safety programs in schools, at the request of Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming and Finance Commissioner Lucile Roeder.

He is being accompanied by Porter Trice, field representative of the Maryland Traffic Bureau, and Officer Charles Cubbage of the Cumberland Police Department.

The singing policeman will conduct a safety assembly today at 9:15 a. m. in Oldtown School and at Flintstone School at 12:45 p. m.

Tomorrow's schedule includes a program at Mt. Savage School at 9:15 a. m., at Beall Elementary School at 10:30 a. m. and 12:30 p. m. and at Midland School at 2 p. m.

Friday's schedule is not complete but will include programs at three schools.

He presented programs at McCoole, Westernport, Barton, Mt. Royal, Centre Street and John Humbird schools on Monday and yesterday.

During the programs, "Sing for Safety" booklets are presented to each student. They include safety songs written by Lt. Jacques, and tips for safe bicycle riding.

Each student is asked to repeat the following pledge:

I will not play in the street.
I will cross streets only at corners.
I will look both ways before stepping from curb.
I will not run between parked cars.
I will be careful and obey all safety rules when I ride my bicycle, scooter, sled or skates.
I will swim and play the safe way.
I will be a good "Safety Officer" and I will live for America.

Lt. Jacques, who is making his third visit here, sings and plays the piano and leads the group singing.

That's an easy job for the lieutenant, who was in show business before he became a policeman. He is currently assigned to public relations and safety duties.

He was assigned to the task in Baltimore County in 1952 to reduce the toll of children killed or injured on their way to school over that county's 1,500 miles of streets and highways.

In all of his talks, Lt. Jacques praises the work and safety records of school safety patrols.

He said yesterday that so far as he knows, he is the first person to use music to teach traffic safety.

Spiker Pigeon Wins First Race

First old bird race of the 1959 series of the Allegany Racing Pigeon Club was flown Sunday from West Union, W. Va., a distance of 100 miles.

The birds encountered fog midway on the course, slowing the speed and splitting the flock. The winner flew in at a fair average speed. Some 260 birds representing 14 lofts competed.

Grizzle Amiel from the Wing Ridge Loft of R. L. Spiker was the victor, averaging 1,051.08 yards per minute. Second was Jimminy from the Lost Loft of Dudley A. Shafer, averaging 1,044.11 yards per minute. Third was Jim Silver from Tinkers Loft of Alburtis Llewellyn, averaging 1,035.61 yards per minute.

Others among the top ten were Dougie, from the MacArthur Loft of C. A. Smith, 1,026.92 yards per minute; AAA from the Lost Loft, 1,018.11 yards per minute; Blue Boy from Wing Ridge Loft, 1,016.32 yards per minute; Happy from Excello Loft of M. M. Green, 1,008.99 yards per minute; Silver Dust from Pear Alley Loft of J. H. Sweitzer, 1,007.81 yards per minute; Silver, also from Pear Alley Loft, 1,001.39 yards per minute; Dark Eyes, from Gallo Loft of Charles Buskirk, 996.56 yards per minute.

West Side Classes Plan Musical Show Tonight

The fourth, fifth and sixth grades of West Side School will present a program of songs and dances today and Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at the school.

The script for the play was written by the sixth graders in Mrs. LaVern Cross' room.

The story takes place in a space ship, Astrolab II, where plans are made for representatives from Terra to share their culture with King Solarian and his Martian subjects.

Operating the space ship will be Robert Harvey, Larry Ford, Bill Randolph, Doug Mackey, David Young and Donald Frederick.

King Solarian is played by Kenneth Swauger. The Martians are Bonnie Gilpin, Bonnie Harrison, Ann Mall, Lois Jean Cole, Terrilea Robinson, Cheryl Zaiz and Linda Yeager.

The space ship scenery was painted and planned by the boys and girls of Miss Ann Riggleman's and Mrs. Ruth Propst's rooms.

Representatives of earth's countries are Dale Middleton, America; Jane Nicklin, England; Esther Waugaman, Ireland; Bonnie Short, Scotland; Jackie Chandler, Sweden; Barbara Sigel, Israel; Joyce Goetz, Mexico; Susan Evans, Switzerland; and Patty Horn, Italy.

Over 200 children will participate in the program.

Mrs. Margaret Carroll, music teacher, assisted the other teachers in directing the program. Instructors are Miss Leona Myers; Mrs. Cross; Mrs. Nellie Isaacs; Miss Riggleman; Miss Anona Brehany; Mrs. Propst; and David Phillips.

Miss Riggleman will sing "Carmen Carmela" and Mrs. Betty Verdery will sing the "Italian Street Song" as part of the program.

Local Student's 'Murder' Panics Two U.Md. Coeds

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)— The cast took a breather Monday night while rehearsing "Kiss Me Kate" for a University of Maryland student production.

David M. Blackburn of Cumberland, and Gerald A. Kroop, Baltimore, walked outside to the parking lot for a breath of fresh air. Other students in the cast tagged along.

While outside, they decided to run through a part in the play where Kroop shoots Blackburn—with blanks in the pistol, of course.

Two shots rang out, and Blackburn dropped.

That's the only part two coeds saw. They ran to their dormitory and frantically told their housemother about the murder they had just witnessed.

University police came running. After considerable explaining, the cops left, and the rehearsal proceeded — inside.

284 Beverage Licenses Ready For Applicants

Some 284 alcoholic beverage licenses are ready for distribution to the applicants for the new year starting May 1 as a result of the action of the Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverages Licenses Commissioners yesterday.

One change was the approval of a Class C beer, wine and liquor licenses for the Clarysville Fire Department, subject to the concurrence of the Health Department. This establishment formerly held only a Class D beer permit.

The board also voted to suspend the liquor license of the Cumberland Liquor Store, 419 Henderson Avenue, as a result of a conviction last October for sale to a minor. The conviction was appealed to the Court of Appeals and the appeal was dismissed last month. The suspension period begins at midnight Saturday and continues through Tuesday, May 5.

Four new applicants for Class D beer licenses at old locations received approval from the liquor board. They were Harry P. Lancaster for Homewood Tavern at Mt. Savage, Nellie G. Boone, 305 Baltimore Avenue, Anna Broadwater, Barton, and Ruth G. Metz, 315 Springdale Street. All except the last have been in effect throughout this current liquor license year. The Springdale Street license was surrendered by the former holder last month.

The liquor board office on the third floor at the Court House remained open until 4 p. m. yesterday to distribute the required applications to the tavern keepers. The applicant must get his application from the liquor board office and then take it to the office of the clerk of Circuit Court to get his license.

Twenty-three obtained their new licenses yesterday. The liquor board office will remain open until 4 p. m. each day through April 30 for the convenience of the license holders.

The 284 licenses approved include 28 Class A off sale beer licenses, 115 Class D on and off beer licenses, nine Class A beer and wine off sale licenses, 15 Class D beer and wine licenses for on and off consumption, 60 Class D tavern beer, wine and liquor licenses and 49 Class C club-type beer, wine and liquor licenses.

Fire Is Extinguished

East Side Fire Company extinguished a grass fire on Shriver's Hill at the rear of Independence Street yesterday. Firemen answered the alarm at 12:59 p. m. and returned at 1:21 p. m. Little damage was reported.

Doubts Raised Over Fate Of Canal Measure

Backers Oppose Dam Site Proviso

By FRANK E. TAYLOR

WASHINGTON (AP) — Doubts were raised Tuesday over the fate of legislation to create a Chesapeake and Ohio Canal National Historical Park.

Several backers of the proposed 185-mile park from near Washington to Cumberland, Md., testified they would rather have no bill at all than one with a reservation for a dam site.

Among these was Director Conrad L. Wirth of the National Park Service — the last witness at a hearing by the House Public Lands subcommittee.

In reply to questions by Chairman Gracie Pfost (D - Idaho), Wirth said if legislation "sacrifices any part of the canal — five miles, or 35, or 80 — without better information than we now have (concerning the need of a dam at River Bend on the Potomac River), I'd say no bill at all."

A similar view was expressed by Stewart M. Brandborg of the National Wildlife Federation.

Criticizes Restriction

Brandborg criticized a proviso in two of the pending bills which would restrict park improvement in a 35-mile stretch between Great Falls on the Potomac and Brunswick, Md., to provide for a possible reservoir, pending a comprehensive study plan by Army Engineers.

This provision, he said, would seriously hamper the future administration of the canal area, presently under the jurisdiction of the National Park Service.

Brandborg said the canal from Washington to Cumberland was bought by the government in 1933 and is already a park.

Hopes For Approval

Mrs. Pfost said after the hearing she had hoped for approval of a bill to provide for a park at least above the area which would be flooded by a River Bend dam.

"I had hoped to accomplish that much this session," she told reporters at the end of the hearing. She added that the views of Wirth and some of the other park supporters posed a problem.

"I don't know what the committee will do," she said.

Rep. John P. Saylor (R-Pa), a subcommittee member and an advocate of a bill without any dam reservation, said he also could not predict what the committee will do.

"I can only be hopeful," he said. He added that he does not want a park bill with any reservation which might be a jeopardy to the entire park system.

Would Threaten Parks

Opponents of the reservation provision have contended such a section would be a threat to national parks and that it is unnecessary because Congress already has the power to authorize dams and other developments within a park.

Rep. John Foley (D-Md), a chief sponsor of C & O park legislation, was more optimistic.

"I think they (the committee) will come out with a bill," he said. "Everybody is in favor of a park."

Mrs. Pfost said she doesn't know when the subcommittee can meet to pass on the legislation. The group already has hearings set for other legislation, she said.

Col. George B. Sumner, Washington district Army engineer, said in reply to questions that he does not believe low dams could be built for water storage without flooding the canal area. He said that was based on general knowledge of the area and not on any study.

Foley Seeks Alternative

Foley, who has been regularly attending the hearings although not a committee member, testified for a park bill.

"I'm not afraid of this Congress or any future Congress destroying the great values of the C and O Canal area," he said.

He added that he hopes the Army Engineers will find an alternative to building a dam at River Bend.

Brandborg, questioned in detail by members, said he objected to what he described as blanket authority for a dam being given to the Army Engineers.

"I can't understand the concern now about a water supply (for the Washington area) in view of the many alternative dam sites," he said.

Equity Suits Filed

Four equity suits have been filed in Allegany County Circuit Court. The bills of complaint were titled Frances M. Atkinson vs. Jack H. Atkinson, Flossie Pearl Leonard vs. William G. Leonard, Edna B. Fox vs. James E. Fox, and June Ryan vs. Richard J. Ryan.
